Court Foes Boom Johnson for President

STAGE SET TO ELECT SENATOR

Aiding De Valera In Fight Against Irish Free State Soldiers

"Keeping the United States Out of Europe" Campaign Issue

CALIFORNIAN MAY REFUSE IS VIEW

Opposition to Hughes and Hoover Increasing In Washington

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Senator Hiram Johnson will be urged, on his return from Europe, to fight President Harding for the Republican presidential nomination in 1924.

Johnson probably will refuse, his friends here believe.

Leaders of the isolationist group in the senate and outside of it are getting ready to put to Johnson in the strongest terms at their command what they call an "imperative necessity" that he run on a platform of "keeping the United States out of Europe."

The issue, they will tell him, has been made to order for him and President Harding himself has made it.

Issue Made to Order

Johnson told leading Republican senators before he left for his European vacation that he would not be a candidate unless there was some chance of beating Mr. Harding. But now Johnson's friends here do not see how he can stay out of the race.

They profess to believe that Johnson's candidacy would command the coveted support for many influential Republicans who are angry and sore in spirit because of Mr. Harding's attitude, not only on the world court but on other matters, notably federal patronage.

Johnson would get, the handlers of his presidential boom claim, the support of the anti-Hughes and the anti-Hoover Republicans, of whom there are many.

Seldom has a high administration official been the object of so much bitterness within the party as Secretary Hughes. The word "fiasco" does not adequately express the opinion of many Republicans, some of them in high places. They have kept silent only because of their party loyalty and their strong friendship for President Harding.

The antipathy to Hoover is scarcely less vigorous. Many Republicans feel that Hughes and Hoover have Mr. Harding under their thumbs on the international issue and they want to rescue the party, as they view it, from domination by such influences. They would not openly support Johnson, but would help him under cover.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The debate over the world court issue will continue today when spokesmen for both sides of the question deliver speeches.

Secretary of State Hughes in an address tonight before the American Society of International Law, will back up President Harding's position as outlined in New York Tuesday.

Senator Watson of Indiana, speaking before the American club in Pittsburgh, will reply to the president on behalf of those Republicans who fear American entanglement with Europe as a result of court membership.

Senator Borah of Idaho, in a statement assailing the court plan, declared it meant League of Nations membership.

KING GEORGE HONEST

LONDON, April 27.—King George has received a real certificate of honesty. Convinced that he will never take up counterfeiting, officials of the Laverstock paper mills, in Hampshire, have invited him and the Queen to be the first persons in the two hundred years of existence to inspect the mills and see how bank note paper is made. Heretofore no one outside the family of the proprietors has been let into the secret.

CRISIS NEAR IN BUDGET STRUGGLE

Victory for Anti-Richardson Forces Will Wreck Economy Slogan

27.—Reconsideration of the resolution passed last night calling for adjournment of the forty-fifth legislature on May 14 was urged in the assembly today by Speaker Merriam, who told the lower house members that since special appropriation bills will have to wait until the budget is passed, adjournment on or near May 14, will leave no chance for such measures to be put through.

(By United Press Leased Wire) SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 27.—Crisis in the assembly contest over the administration economy budget was expected to be reported late today.

With administration leaders announcing that they will oppose further delay, the lower house was expected to reach a decision on the amendments under consideration by which it is hoped to validate the exclusion of recurring appropriation and fixed charges from the budget. These items, if included in the budget would bring the total to approximately $116,000,000.

Believing that a strict interpretation of the budget amendment makes their inclusion necessary, the anti-administration forces have prepared thirty-one amendments covering the fixed charges and recurrent appropriations, which will be offered the assembly today.

If the lower house refuses the administration validating amendment and votes the additional millions into the budget it means a serious blow to Governor Richardson's economy claims, legislators agree.

A committee, including Rosenshine, Coombs and Fox, conferred with State Controller Riley and Attorney General Webb late yesterday over the situation.

Riley informed the assemblymen that he would not pay out any state money on the budget with or without the attorney general's validating amendment, until he had first submitted the matter to his bonding company.

The attorney general said he believed the amendment he offered covered the situation and authorized the budget exclusion of the fixed charges, with the possible exception of University of California. He said it might be advisable to include all the state university appropriations in the budget total.

RE-APPOINTMENT BILL AMENDMENTS KILLED.

SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 27.—The assembly today by a vote of 36 to 20 defeated amendments to the Edwin Baker re-appointment bill now before the lower house.

While unimportant in their detail, the vote on the amendments was considered a test of the fate the re-appointment proposition will receive when it comes up for final consideration.

A large number of members were absent, but observers believed that the absentees represented equally both sides of the re-appointment plan.

ACCUSE HOBOES OF DESTROYING SIGNS

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—Destruction of a great number of automobile-road signs throughout California was blamed today on the hobo fraternity by officials of the automobile club of Southern California. Following a number of murders recently of motorists who had taken in strangers to ride with them, the club started a "don't give strangers lifts" campaign. This slogan has enraged itinerant hobo and tramps, club officials say, and destruction of club signs along the roads has resulted.

Boy, 19, Pays Death Penalty As Brother Admits Guilt

LAFAYETTE, Ga., April 27.—George Baker, 19 years old, was executed here today for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Norton, while his 15-year-old brother, Ralph, protested that he alone was responsible for the crime.

Baker walked to his death calmly, waving farewell to a crowd assembled in the jail yard.

"I am innocent of the murder of Deputy Sheriff Norton," George declared as he stood on the gallows.

The younger brother, who was convicted of the same crime, and received a commutation of life imprisonment begged to be allowed to go to death by the side of his brother.

ADRENALIN SAVES BABE BORN DEAD

Physicians Declare Girl Brought Into World by Operation Will Live.

HUTCHINSON, Kans., April 27.—Baby Geraldine Rigg, born dead and restored to life by the injection of adrenalin, was in a local hospital today fighting what appeared to be a winning battle.

Dr. C. W. Hall, who performed the operation, said the baby was dead at the time of birth but heart action was revived almost immediately after the injection of adrenalin.

PASSENGERS OF LOST VESSEL ARE SAVED

(By United Press Leased Wire) MARSHFIELD, Ore., April 27.—All of the thirty-six persons aboard the steam freighter Brush, which crashed on a reef near Cape Argo on the Oregon coast early Thursday, were saved without accident or injury and are in Marshfield today.

Captain G. G. Mitchell, master of the Brush, said the wreck was due to the vessel coming in too close in the heavy fog. The beacon light could not be seen.

Officers on watch believed the position of the ship to be twenty miles off shore at the time she struck.

Mrs. Mitchell, who was sailing with her husband, said she and the captain saved all their personal belongings, as she thought the crew also did.

Mrs. Mitchell is the daughter of the late Admiral Frye, U. S. N., and her son, a lieutenant in the navy, is now stationed at Panama.

Captain Mitchell is not of the opinion that the vessel can be salvaged. However, word of the condition of the Brush has been sent to San Francisco headquarters and if the vessel does not break up quickly wreckers may be sent to attempt salvage. She lies at present with fifteen feet of water in her engine room.

INDUSTRY, FARMERS FACING BOOM, VIEW

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Industry throughout the country is turning out products at a greater rate than in the boom year of 1920, the federal reserve board reported today in its monthly survey of business.

Production in basic industries during March was eight per cent higher than at the 1920 peak and 67 per cent above the low point of the depression year, 1921.

KANSAS CITY, April 27.—The farmer, although trailing the business man on the road to prosperity, is gradually recovering from the period of depression. Fred Starek, director of the War Finance corporation, declared here today.

Trotsky Says Soviet Ready for Fight For Control of Air

MOSCOW, April 27.—The isolated countries in the world are the United States of America and the United States of the Soviet, Leon Trotsky, minister of war, said in a speech here today.

Trotsky spoke at the meeting of the Voluntary Air Fleet society, urging expansion of the government air force.

"There is a difference between our positions of isolation," he said.

"The isolation of the United States is voluntary, but we are isolated because the capitalist countries hate us.

But with all this hatred surrounding our nation, our soviet will not be broken down. We will build up a strong air force and conquer the air as we have conquered the ground we are standing on."

GOVERNOR IN MOVE TO CUT SUGAR PRICE

Oklahoma Executive Urges Women to Cut Down Consumption; Will Aid Campaign

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 27.—Governor Jack Walton today issued a proclamation asking housewives of the state to conserve sugar.

The governor said the only way to halt the rise in the price of sugar was to cut down consumption.

"I will ask Mrs. Walton to cut down consumption of sugar in my own household to the minimum, to set an example to housewives of the state," the governor declared.

DETROIT, Mich., April 27.—Members of the Detroit Federation of Women's clubs today unanimously voted to refuse to use sugar, except in case of necessity, until the price has returned to normal.

SHIPS IDELE AS 1500 MEN OUT ON STRIKE

(By United Press Leased Wire) SAN PEDRO, Calif., April 27.—Shipping was still badly crippled today as a result of the activities of the Marine Transport strikers.

Over 1500 men in the harbor district were idle, and a number of vessels were unable to load or unload.

Inter-coastal steamers were affected most by the walkout, the loading and unloading of coastswise vessels being little delayed.

Five hundred strikers and alleged radical and oil workers marched in the heart of town late yesterday and held a mass meeting, pledging themselves not to quit until the fight is won.

STRIKE PROVES FAILURE IN OREGON, REPORT

PORTLAND, Ore., April 27.—Reports today from logging camps throughout Oregon indicate that the I. W. W. workers in logging camps have not, as yet, generally joined in the strike.

At Portland, work along the waterfront is proceeding as usual, no vessels having been tied up or delayed.

30,000 LUMBER WORKERS QUIT LOGGING CAMPS

SEATTLE, April 27.—That the strike of all I. W. W. in Washington which was called April 25 following receipt here of orders from general headquarters in Chicago, is spreading was indicated by reports received here today.

In the Grays Harbor district men are reported leaving the logging camps and docks in increasing numbers.

It is estimated that at least one third of the 30,000 lumber and logging workers in western Washington are now idle.

The strike is scheduled to end May 10 when it is believed by the I. W. W. that the political prisoners will be released. In case they are still held, the strike will be resumed, according to the secretary of the local I. W. W. branch.

GRANTED FINAL DECREE

Final decree of divorce was granted to the plaintiff in the suit of Jack Ducommun against his wife, Luella Ducommun, by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today.

GASFUMES OVERCOME VICTIMS

Charred Bodies of Children Found In Halls By Firemen

RESCUERS DELAYED BY DEADLY SMOKE

Action of Flames Arouses Suspicion Incendiarism Cause of Blaze

(By United Press Leased Wire) NEW YORK, April 27.—Twelve persons—six children, four women and two men—perished in flames which gutted a crowded five story Harlem tenement house just before dawn today.

Families asleep in their beds were trapped when the only stairway was destroyed by the sweeping fire, which sent a dense gaseous smoke through the fourth and fifth floors, stifling victims as they groped blindly for safety.

Charred bodies of the child victims were found huddled together in corners and hallways where, hand-in-hand, they had sought to make their way out, only to be overcome.

Carried to Safety.

Big sisters and mothers, some alive but unconscious, were found clutching the little bodies. They had dropped unconscious from the smoke and lay there, easy prey for the flames.

Some were found by firemen who penetrated the deadly smoke and were carried down by aerial ladders.

Early morning passersby saw smoke issuing from some of the windows of the house at 199th street and Madison and turned in the first alarm shortly before 4 a. m.

The blaze did not burst forth from the structure and seemed stifled in one portion of the building. Heavy gases filled the building through all of the stories and those above who attempted to dash down the stairs to safety were unable to penetrate the smoke and were overcome.

Taxi-Cab Aids Rescue

Eleven persons were taken to hospitals suffering injuries.

Those who were able to get to the fire escapes ran down to the second floor. A taxi-cab was driven onto the sidewalk and they stepped to its roof and thence to the street.

Firemen saved many women from where they lay unconscious on the floors, and revived them in the open air.

Mrs. Anna Solomon, a cripple who could not walk, lay paralyzed in her bed for fifteen minutes while the smoke filled her room and the red glare flickered through the transoms. Two firemen found her there and carried her out safely though they both suffered burns.

Suspensions of police were aroused at the speed with which the blaze traveled. A squad is minutely examining the building to determine possibilities of incendiarism.

AMERICAN TOT IS STOLEN IN MEXICO CITY

(By United Press Leased Wire) MEXICO CITY, April 27.—American residents joined police today in the search for Charles Parmelee, four year old American, who was kidnapped from the children's home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parmelee, the child's parents, were divorced some time ago in Los Angeles.

Parmelee came to Mexico City with his son about a year ago and was followed by his wife, who claims the Los Angeles court gave her possession of her baby. She has brought action in local courts.

Early last night an automobile loaded with men drove up in front of the children's home, where the baby was confined, and overpowered the matron, took the child.

Mrs. Parmelee before her marriage was Esther Black. Parmelee is a former aviator in the United States army. He is now in business here. There case has been up in various courts here and a decision is expected shortly.

One theory on which police have been tipped is that the kidnapers may have set out for Guatemala or the United States in an airplane.

Several members of a gang which police say may have been interested in the kidnaping were arrested.

Parmelee is said to be the nephew of the Parmelee family of Chicago, owner of a transfer system.

OREGON READY TO WELCOME HARDING

PORTLAND, Ore., April 27. The Oregon eagle is being fed on selected bird seed and raw meat, so he'll be in fine fettle for screaming a welcome to President Harding, should Harding come to Oregon for a visit early this coming July. The state seal is being given polish and the entire state is fattening its anticipation daily on delightful rumors which fit about telling of the president's proposed visit.

According to tentative plans brooded about the president should be in Oregon, on or about July 4, and a big celebration is planned for him atop the crest of the Blue mountains in eastern Oregon, should he care to clamber up and be among those present.

The occasion will be the dedication of the Old Oregon trail, Oregon's northernmost highway, connecting Ontario on the east with Seaside-on-the-Sea on the west, nearly 600 miles in length, half of it paved and the other half hard-surfaced with gravel and macadam. The road follows substantially the route taken by Oregon's pioneers. A big portion of this road has been named the "Columbia River Highway," while the rest was known as the Old Oregon Trail.

The recent session of the Oregon legislature approved naming the entire 600 miles of the road, from Ontario to the sea, "The Old Oregon Trail." Completion of many improvements is to be feted.

W. E. Meacham, president of the Oregon Trail association, has invited the president to be present at the dedication. The invitation was extended to the president through Senator McNary, and Meacham has been advised that the president is "highly interested in the ceremony and would like very much to attend." While the

NO CHANCES TAKEN WITH BLIND JUSTICE

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—Taking no chances with "blind justice," Clifton Brown, accused of grand larceny, pleaded not guilty and then wrote Superior Judge Reeve, asking him to be lenient.

When he appeared for trial and was found guilty, the court asked him why he wrote the letter if he was not guilty of the charge. "Well," explained Brown, "this is the way I figured, your honor. Justice is blind anyway and I don't pretend to understand it, but when I thought something was going wrong, I had a hunch to write you the letter, not wanting to pass up any chances."

Brown then applied for probation.

DRAIN PIPE LEADS TO HOOCH ARRESTS

LONG BEACH, Cal., April 27.—City prohibition officers discovered a Japanese bootlegging establishment several months ago and although they raided the place a score of times, in each instance they failed to secure any evidence. Officer O. M. Murphy began to think on the problem. He couldn't figure out how the Japanese disposed of the liquor when the place was raided. Looking down a 50-foot bank near the rum shop, Murphy discovered a drain pipe. He placed a pail underneath the pipe and then raided the oriental. After arresting the Japanese, he walked down the bank to get the pail. It was full of "hooch."

A ceremony has been scheduled for July 3 at the summit of the Blue Mountain Pass, the president has been assured that the Old Oregon Trail association will change the date to suit his convenience. Even the place of the ceremony may be changed if the president can be secured as the principal speaker.

MESANS LAUNCH AD CAMPAIGN AT MEET

Appreciating the fact that intelligent advertising will prove to be of inestimable value to the community, the Costa Mesa Chamber of Commerce today had decided to spend $500 for this purpose within the immediate future.

At last night's meeting of the Chamber the advertising committee pointed out the necessity for following up the advertising campaign already launched by business interests of Costa Mesa. When calls were made for pledges the 140 members present quickly subscribed $500. This will be used in newspaper advertising and the distribution of pamphlets setting forth the advantages of Costa Mesa.

A proposition submitted by the Southern Counties Gas company, whereby Mesa residents would be supplied with gas service, was referred to the executive committee for further consideration. It was announced that the gas company could supply gas to 206 homes by the installation of 44,000 feet of pipe.

"This would cost each consumer about $50 for the initial service," said D. J. Dodge, chairman of the utilities committee, "but the greater part of this would be refunded by the company in the event the service became general and was placed on a paying basis. The company estimated that the cost of supplying service from Newport would be about $30,000. Of this sum the consumers would be asked to pay about $10,000." Linn L. Shaw, chairman of the Orange County Harbor commission, delivered a brief address, outlining the needs of the harbor. He said that the harbor should be completed, even if it costs $1,000,000, "in order that we may be saved from Los Angeles. The harbor is the solution of the problem."

Household Suggestions

TO REMOVE SOOT
When your cooking pans and coffee pot have become black and sooty on the bottom, set them in a shallow vessel with a little water in which a teaspoon of soda has been dissolved. Heat the water to the boiling point and they can easily be made clean and new looking.

CAKE BATTER
Mix your cake batter with a large wooden spoon. It becomes light much sooner and is much less tiring for the arm.

KITCHEN TABLE
Since much of your work is done at the kitchen table, you should have it at just the correct height. If too low, have it built up, or if too high, shorten it. Your table makes a great deal of difference in the way you will feel at the end of the day.

FURNITURE POLISHER
For very fine furniture, silk is an excellent polisher. Save your old worn-out silk lingerie for this purpose.

GOOD APPETIZER
Anchovy paste and chopped mustard pickles, served on crackers, make an unusually good appetizer.

REMOVING HAND STAINS
Some vegetables stain the hands with an ugly dark stain difficult to remove with soap and water.

TABLE LINENS
Never starch tablecloths or table linen. Into the water in which you are rinsing them add a tablespoon of methylated spirit to a gallon of rinsing water. This will make them stiff enough and glossy and white as well.

SURVIVORS OF SHIP DISASTER ARE FOUND
CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 27.—Three lifeboats with survivors from the ill-fated Portuguese mail steamer Mossamedes have reached Port Alexander safely.

The survivors expressed the belief that other boats which set out from the Mossamedes after the vessel had grounded off Cape Frie, probably have reached land also.

WOMEN AID BOMBING OUTRAGE IN DUBLIN
DUBLIN, April 27.—Two women were in a band of five which exploded a planted mine in front of the Grand Moving picture theater in O'Connell street today.

A portion of the front of the movie house was blown out and windows were shattered for considerable distance on both sides of the street.

Three pedestrians and one of the bombers were wounded. All the irregulars escaped.

Cultural Lecture Offers Interest To Study Section Members

"The words 'cultural' and 'spiritual' are elusive words when you put them down and try to make them give an account of themselves," declared Mr. Edward M. Nealley lecturing yesterday on "The Field of the Cultural, or the Value Side of Experience" before members of the Ebell University Study section, gathered at his home near Tustin.

Continuing, the speaker said these signify the finest and best products of human experience. Here, in the very deepest sense, is where all of us live, namely, in the evaluations we put upon our experiences. Here is where we answer the questions "Is life worth living? What is life for?" It is for the values we get, or strive to get, out of it.

Axiology, a word not yet found in any dictionary, but found frequently in current philosophical literature, means the systematic and scientific study of values in relation to the spiritual, cultural, moral and aesthetic side of life—of values in the realm of poetry, music and art.

Regarding mankind as makers, we are engaged in two colossal enterprises. We are making a world of things, and we are making ourselves. The world is not a finished product, and neither are we. There is a world order in the making, and there is a human order in the making, and the two jobs are up to us.

Science and art, in the general sense of applied science, are concerned with the first task, and our achievements in this field are very conspicuous in this day of invention and industry. From the cave man to the city man, from the ox cart to the automobile and airplane, from special messenger to radio, these miracles tell us part of the story of human effort to make over the world. We took up the job where nature left off and no one can predict where we are going to leave off.

Now man is so pleased, and perhaps a bit conceited, over his accomplishments in the world of things that he is going to try making himself over. If we can make a new work, why not a new man? If we can grow crops successfully, why can we not "grow" humans successfully? There are to be made a new cultural order, comprehending a new moral order, a new spiritual order and a new aesthetic order.

These orders are to be made, and to be made by us. The new philosophy is a philosophy of effort, not of passive appropriation. What else is there to enthusiastic about in human existence except a job that is worth while—the creation of values. Edwin Markham expresses this creative enthusiasm in his lines:

"The rise of man is endless; be in hope.

All stars are gathered in his horoscope,

The brute-man of the planet—he will pass,

Blown out like forms of vapor in a glass,

And from this quaking pulp of life will rise

The super man, child of the higher skies—

Immortal, he will break the ancient bars,

Laugh, and reach out his hands among the stars."

We shall build a new value world—a moral order, a spiritual order, a real religious order, and the lines of the structure will be beautiful—for I believe that beauty must be the essence of all ultimate values. No order we can make will be worth much if it isn't beautiful, and set to music.

Musical is a corner stone of all achievements of mind and spirit. The universe is in process of change, and discord and readjustment are inherent in such a process, but these are to us a challenge to change the discord into music. The significance of evil is unorganization, and this unorganization is a challenge to our best efforts.

After a discussion of the philosopher's view of essential values, Mr. Nealley said philosophy asks such questions as these, and upon our answers depend largely the price marks we put upon life and life's experiences: "What is the raw material of which the universe is made? Is it more like what we call matter, or more like what we call consciousness? How do things hang together? Why is the world a cosmos and not a chaos? Did it just happen into order, or was it put in order by intelligence? Who or what, did it?"

What is the nature of the principles or laws which hold things together? Does the moon go 'round the earth and the earth 'round the sun because they have to, or because it is their nature to do that thing? Why do light rays travel through space? What—and why—is motion? Why shouldn't everything be at rest? When did time begin?

Was there ever a time when there was only God, and no universe? What is God? To introduce God as a creative and sustaining power is not an explanation of the universe, because then we must go further back and ask about the nature and origin of God.

The problem of evil looms large in philosophy. There are various ways of meeting it—concede its unexplainability, deny its existence, dodge it, or face it like a soldier, accept it as a challenge to bring out your highest and best efforts.

The origin, destiny and meaning of life—these are the questions we face, and from them we get our values and interpretations and inspirations in all we think and do in this busy, practical life of ours.

WILL SEEK DIVORCE

Charging extreme cruelty, Percie Maye Oliver today filed suit for divorce in superior court here against her husband, George E. Oliver. They were married in Vancouver, B. C. November 3, 1908, and separated April 18, last. Attorney James L. Hansen represented the plaintiff.

Masons to their wives, sweethearts and Masonic brothers.

An executive committee composed of John R. Estes Jr., C. D. Brown, W. J. Vanaken, C. E. Desery and J. C. Cogan had an eventful program arranged. With Mr. Estes as master of ceremonies in the ball room, the merriment and general cordiality was pronounced.

Many tables were arranged for cards at the final scoring, Mrs. W. W. Clevenger and J. E. Snow were each awarded prizes for efficiency while second score held by Mrs. Ida E. Dumphrey among the ladies and F. V. Bomboy of the men, yielded them gifts as well.

In the ball room, with the Chapman orchestra offering some of its finest music, a number of popular dances were introduced including cymbal, pursuit and ladies' choice. Other novelties included a peanut race staged by half a dozen couples which yielded the winners a box of fine chocolates, and a marathon dance in which the time limit was shortened from a hundred hours or so to a circling of the hall five times in the shortest space of time.

The winners in this were also presented with chocolates while a "pursue" was bestowed upon Charles Cogan for his ability to imitate the contents of a baby's bottle in shortest possible space of time.

Late in the evening, as card players gathered in the ball room all had the pleasure of hearing an interpolated feature when Jo Kozlana gave a group of beautiful banjo numbers including old Southern medleys, modern jazz and the sweet strains of "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms."

Loving Greetings to Mother

MOTHER'S DAY—MAY 13

Scatter sunshine with greeting cards! Send Mother a pretty card, or a framed motto, or a little gift—just some little token, no matter how insignificant, will fill her heart with gladness.

Another good suggestion is a box of stationery—Crane's Linen Lawn, for example.

Why We Selected Leo Hartfield to Sell NAVARRE PEARLS

A CHAIN of steel is no stronger than its weakest link. A national selling organization is judged, and rightly, too, by its local representative. Primarily, we designated this firm as distributors of Navarre Pearls because of its well-known integrity; because of its reputation as a house of fair and square dealing; because it enjoys the confidence of the people.

It is the business of lovely woman to enhance her loveliness—Navarre Pearls add wondrously to her natural charms. It is our business to submit the claims of Navarre Pearls to discriminating women through the most estimable medium; we have done so, we believe, in the selection of this reputable firm as our sole and exclusive representatives.

years ago the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First M.
E. church will give tonight in the church auditorium, a historical and educational drama in honor of Founding Day.

At the present date many thousands of women are members of this society and missionaries, great work in nineteen different countries. Of the original eight founders, only one is living, Mrs.

Parker, now in her eighty-ninth

PARIS, April 26.—Drawing a revolver from his pocket and firing at the audience which had hissed some of his songs, Gabriel Monteux caused a tumult in a crowded

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 25.
—Moonshiners in Shelby county are now setting steel traps to catch enforcement officers. According to a raiding party who reported upon their return here from that county the discovery of a huge distillery surrounded by the traps cleverly concealed under leaves and underbrush. A single path was leading into the valley where the plant was located and was connected with an alarm system by means of which a bell in the distillery was rung.

2-POUND BABES SHORT-LIVED? HUH!—AVAS

When John Avas, once mayor of Santa Ana and a resident here for the past forty years, first saw the light of day he was a two-pound baby. That was in Verla, in Ostfriesland province, Germany.

"He can't live long," the physician told his mother. "Two-pound babies seldom do."

Avas, a resident at the Richelieu hotel, corner Ross and Fourth streets, the building of which he financed in 1887, today celebrated his eightieth birthday. He weighed in at 160 pounds and felt frisky enough, he said, to challenge a neighbor to a foot race for any kind of a prize.

"Never Felt Better."
"I may have been a puny baby," Avas declared, "but if I was I'm glad of it for I certainly have enjoyed many years of good health.
I never felt better in my life."

"When I was abroad last year I visited my birthplace. There they showed me a cup of quart measure.
This cup had a lid which could be shut down. My mother once told me she often put me in this cup and shut down that lid. I challenge anyone to show that the experience of being a two-pound baby had any ill effects."

"While I was going abroad the youngsters on the ship told me I was a goner. But I never missed a meal, either coming or going, or all during my trip for that matter."

Came Here in 1883.
"I've heard it said that smoking shortens life. I don't believe it.
I've been an inveterate smoker since I was 26. I never smoke cigarettes, however, and I wouldn't advise anyone to take up smoking in order to prolong life. It might act the other way on them."

Avas came to Santa Ana March 27, 1883, just forty years ago last month. With a group of other men he was the builder and owner of both the Rossmore and Richelieu hotels.

"When it was constructed," Avas said, "the Richelieu was the only building on Fourth street between Ross street and the corner of Broadway. I had confidence in Santa Ana and now that confidence has repaid me."

The program in full was made up of the following numbers:
Fox trot, Mellow Moon, Hall.
Fox trot, Rose of the Rio Grande,
Warren.

Fox trot, Got to See Mamma
Every Night.

FIVE WORKMEN DEAD AS SCAFFOLD FALLS

LONGVIEW, Wash., April 27.—
Five workmen were killed last Thursday afternoon when a scaffold on which they were working fell from the sixth and top story of Hotel Monticello, which is under construction by the Westlake
Construction company.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED?

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them
are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factory, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness.
Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for women's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health and it will pay every ailing woman to try it.—

BABY FALLS THREE STORIES, LANDS ON ICE; ONLY BRUISED

ROCHESTER, April 26.—Twenty-month-old Barbara Green isn't boasting today. In fact, she doesn't realize she is alive only by a miraculous providence. Fifteen years from now, she will tell her friends about it—but they probably won't believe it.

Barbara was playing on a cedar chest that stood near an open window in her home on the third floor of an apartment house at 210 Plymouth avenue south. Imbued with the spirit of adventure, she crept out on the window ledge.

It all happened so suddenly no one knew just how. Her parents, terror-stricken, saw the baby fall.
They descended three floors to a courtyard at the side of the apartment. There they found the child, lying on the ice-caked sidewalk.

At St. Mary's hospital doctors examined the baby but could find no broken bones or serious injury. One or two slight scratches were the only evidence of the mishap.

PROGRAM GIVEN BY KFAW HERE INTERESTING

An interesting and varied program was featured by KFAW last night at The Register's broadcasting station from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

King Tut made a talk on Auto Resurrection day and made it clear that his appearance in Santa Ana was to protect his entry in the big race to be staged a week from Saturday.

John Harper, Santa Ana high school boy who won second place
Tuesday night at Riverside in the Southern California Citizens' Committee oratorical contest, repeated his winning oration for KFAW.

Guy M. Biddick, a member of the noted California Oriole orchestra of Los Angeles, offered several piano solos. Biddick duplicated the hits he has made on KHI and KHI programs in Los Angeles.

The Belvedere Terrace orchestra, consisting of Miss Naomi McGilv-ray, Howard T. White, James Smalley and Bud Hoyle, gave a snappy group of syncopated dance hits.

The program in full was made up of the following numbers:
Fox trot, Mellow Moon, Hall.
Fox trot, Rose of the Rio Grande, by many pleasant social features and interest was manifested in the afternoon program, opening at 1:30 o'clock.

This session was to present in addition to balloting on the official ticket, the outstanding event of the convention in the address making Laguna his home.

TRANSLATES SCRIPT ANTE-DATING BIBLE

(By United Press Leased Wire)
NEW YORK, April 27.—Bible students today were plunged into discussion over the announced discovery of an ancient manuscript said to be the earliest version of the scriptures.

The manuscript which dates from the second century reposes in the vaults of the Hispanic Society of America here and is supposed to have been taken from a Spanish monastery in 1907. Dr.
E. H. Buchanan, an authority on old documents, claims to have deciphered portions of it. He explains that it is a palimpsest, which is a manuscript that has been written once, then partially erased and written over again.

Dr. Buchanan said he found the papers had no basis for belief in a day of judgment and no mention of baptism.

Such a Bible as this one would antecede by 200 years the translation made by Saint Jerome in the fourth century from Hebrew texts.

FIVE WORKMEN DEAD AS SCAFFOLD FALLS

LONGVIEW, Wash., April 27.—
Five workmen were killed last Thursday afternoon when a scaffold on which they were working fell from the sixth and top story
of Hotel Monticello, which is under construction by the Westlake
Construction company.

ARE WOMEN OVERWORKED?

Yes, hundreds of thousands of them
are. This applies to the housewife and mother who struggles on a small income to make both ends meet by doing all the washing, ironing, cooking, making and mending for a large family. There are others who not only support themselves working in factory, shops, stores and offices, but often have an invalid father or mother
to support, therefore do housework beside. These are the women who break down early and are afflicted with various forms of female weakness.
Ninety-eight out of every 100 women who have tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have proved that it is a successful remedy for women's ills. For nearly fifty years it has been restoring women to health and it will

GIRL AMNESIA VICTIM STILL IN HOSPITAL

While pretty Auburn-haired June Georganos, Los Angeles amnesia victim, lay beneath the white sheets of a bed at the county hospital, her mind still a partial blank, authorities here, in an effort to locate friends or relatives, were today investigating statements which she made.

The girl was taken to the county hospital, in a dazed condition, yesterday afternoon, after she had applied at police headquarters here for a meal.

When she was first questioned, she was unable to give her name, but later, after she had rested and had eaten, she gave a name, and said that her husband lived at Ocean Park.

Her parents, she thought, lived at Watts. She left her home several days ago, in search of work, the girl claimed, although she denied trouble with her husband. After wandering about Los Angeles, she came to Santa Ana—but how, or when, she did not remember.

Late yesterday, she deepened the mystery which had surrounded her, by asking for an attorney, but declined to state her purpose in seeking one.

Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel, of the county bureau of identification, was making an effort to learn more of girl, he said.

EDUCATION COSTS PER PUPIL BARED

School children in Santa Ana are being educated at more than $1.50 less per pupil than the average cost of education per capita in fifty of the representative cities of the same class, according to a statistical report received at the office of J. A. Cranston, city school superintendent, today.

The report showed that the average cost of education per capita in the fifty scheduled cities was $73.72, during 1911-22 fiscal school year. In Santa Ana the cost per pupil during the same year was $72.05, according to the reports here.

A number of the cities listed in the statistical report showed an average cost per pupil ranging as high as $80.

DRINKING EXPENSE ALLOWED DIPLOMAT

PARIS, April 26.—The moot question regarding how much a diplomat should drink has been solved in a formal official manner by the ministry of Foreign Affairs and the Ministry of Finance. In an official decree signed by President Millerand the sum of three Swiss francs (about 75 cents) per day was allotted to the members of the French delegation at the Lausanne Peace conference to cover their "expenses of drinking."

The apportionment was entirely democratic, because although Ambassador Barriere, Senator Bompard and the other heads of the delegation were given 200 francs per day ordinary expenses, and the lesser diplomats 100 francs per day, down to the stenographers, with 25 francs per day, the drink allowance was the same for all. The inference evidently was that a lesser diplomat or a stenographer can and should and does drink as much as an ambassador or senator.

TO SAIL PACIFIC IN HOMEMADE SUB

SAN PEDRO, Cal., April 26.—William Roland, 42, carpenter and fisherman, plans to depart soon for Madagascar, on the east coast of Africa, in a 30-foot wooden submarine he has built, the "Roland Neptune."

Roland built his craft on Mormon Island, in the inner harbor, during the past two years. The peculiar vessel is only seven feet deep, and has a one-cylinder motorcycle engine to furnish power, with sails for auxiliary power.

Roland plans to catch fish through a hatch in the bottom of the boat. In case the craft capsize, the navigator will escape through the hatch in the bottom, and then will utilize a collapsible lifeboat which he will carry, lashed to the deck.

The sail can be taken down like a periscope when he wants to submerge. As soon as he finishes a few more details, Roland plans to take a tank of gasoline, water, beans and sea biscuit, and start for Madagascar. He is 42, and has been a sailor all his life, and feels confident that he can make the trip.

POST OFFICE THIEF GIVEN 5-YEAR TERM

Refusing the defendant's probation plea, Superior Judge R. Y. Williams today sentenced Roy Murray, convicted of robbing the Sunset Beach post office several weeks ago, to serve a term not to exceed five years in San Quentin.

Murray, evidence at the trial showed, broke the window of a door with a moonshine bottle, and entered the place. He was arrested several hours later by Sheriff Sam Jernigan and aides.

PRATT QUITS PLACE AS SALES MANAGER

REDLANDS, April 27.—The resignation of A. M. Pratt as sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, which has its headquarters here, is reported to have caused some concern among members of the organization. Pratt has been connected with the industry for many years. At one time he was manager of the Villa Park Orchards association in Orange county.

Pratt's resignation is understood to have been caused by a disagreement over methods followed by the Distributors organization. When his resignation went before the directors it was accepted by a vote of 7 to 6.

JR. H. S. GIRLS TO PRESENT PROGRAM

EDITOR SECURES $50 IN $10,000 ACTION

HOUSTON, Texas, April 27.—G. V. Sanders, editor of the Memphis Press and formerly editor of the Houston Press, was granted judgment of $50 in district court here in his suit against Colonel Billy Mayfield for $10,000 damages.

The suit was based on an alleged attempt to kidnap Sanders during martial law at Galveston in 1920 because of editorials printed in the Houston Press. The court held that the editorials did not justify assault in the form of attempted arrest of the editor.

3000 FAINT DURING WEDDING PROCESSION

LONDON, April 27.—Three thousand casualties, mostly fainting women, were handled in London emergency hospitals during the wedding procession of the duke of York and Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon.

The duke and bride, now the princess Elizabeth are honeymooning in Surrey today.

WANT PLACES FOR WOMEN ON PAPERS

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y., April 25.—Ruth Hale, feminist and widely experienced newspaper woman, critic, and author, has announced that her next objective in life is to break down the prejudice against women on the news and editorial staffs of newspapers.

Miss Hale, who is the founder and the president of the Lucy Stone league, organized to prove that women may keep their own names after marriage, is one of the chief speakers on the program of the biennial convention of the Sigma Phi, honorary and professional fraternity for women in journalism, at Norman, Oklahoma, April 26-28.

"The opposition to women in the news room is dying out," says Margaret Garvin Stone, New York, president of the fraternity, "and dying down due to the fact that women all over the country are making good. Some of the biggest stories of the year have been handled by women, and have been handled well."

"Each member of Theta Sigma Phi who enters regular journalistic work takes with her ideals for better journalism which the fraternity instills. In this way we hope to be an influence for better newspaper standard, and we will be as more and more women find places in the field," Mrs. Stone says.

ESPEE PREPARED TO HANDLE BIG CROWDS

To accommodate the large number of persons intending to take advantage of the low summer excursion fares to Eastern points, effective May 15, the Southern Pacific has arranged to provide considerable extra equipment and trains to handle the increased traffic. Through sleepers to give service without the necessity of changing cars en route will also run May 15 to such Eastern destinations as Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, New Orleans and Chicago for the accommodations of the patrons.

While it is the intention of the management to put on all equipment necessary comfortably to handle the increased traffic for these excursions, L. B. Valla, district freight and passenger agent for the Southern Pacific here, suggests that reservations be made as much in advance as possible, by those intending to go East.

Kinks o' the Links

At the lunch hour, workmen employed in the repair of the golf course permitted several wheel barrows to remain on one of the fairways. Driving from the tee a player's shot finds its resting place in a wheel barrow, where it is finally discovered after much hunting for same. What is the proper procedure in such a situation?

The player has the right to lift the ball and drop it without penalty. There is no reason why a player should suffer because of the negligence of an employee.

Has a player the right to change his club after taking his stance on the tee and addressing the ball? If he has such a right is there any penalty attached to the change of clubs?

A player has a perfect right to change clubs at any time he desires. The fact that he has taken his stance and addressed the ball makes no difference. There is no penalty attached.

UNVEIL MONUMENT TO DOUGHBODY SOON

PARIS, April 26.—Two ideas of America's participation in the world war will be embodied in a statue to be unveiled on next Fourth of July, in the place des Etats-Unis—United States Square—where Woodrow Wilson lived when he was attending the court of nations which terminated with the Treaty of Versailles.

The monument, which is the work of Jean Boucher, who made the famous statue of Victor Hugo in the island of Guernsey, shows the fighting doughboy dashing over the top at Chateau Thierry, and the "unknown poilu" waving his cap at his French comrades as he takes the boat to go back across the ocean, his task accomplished. By the side of the American is a French soldier grasping the hand of the warrior from over the seas.

WILL HEAR GIRL CASE ARGUMENT ON MONDAY

The evidence in the case, and the preliminary argument of the state, were heard yesterday, but due to a lack of time, and the fact that the court is busy with the probate and law and motion calendar today, the matter was continued to next week.

Orange Hostesses Entertain Members Of Two Sister Clubs

With members of two Orange clubs as their guests, Mrs. J. R. Porter, Mrs. F. L. Chapline and Mrs. John Adams entertained delightfully yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Porter, honoring Mrs. Harry A. Huff.

Sorrow and regret was felt by the guests when the death of Mrs. L. Lea Collins prevented both Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Walter F. Gregg from being present, but Mrs. Adams preferred not to recall the invitations. Mrs. L. P. Damewood, Miss Estelle Nisson, Mrs. J. D. Thomas and Miss Phillips, a niece of Mrs. Clyde Watson and recently arrived from Washington, D. C., served as substitutes.

Guests from one club included Mesdames T. H. Ellish, K. E. Watson, A. L. Tomlin, C. A. Palmer, K. V. Wolf, Jesse L. Alsworth, J. F. Craemer, G. S. Harper, V. A. Rossiter, J. D. Spennetta, W. A. Hart and Miss Catherine Northcross. Representing the other club were Mesdames Wolf, Walter F. Gregg, W. C. Pixley, John Fletcher, J. S. Keller, H. G. Upham, Harry A. Huff, Clyde A. Watson and A. R. Smith.

The charming decorations employed a wealth of Cecil Brunner roses, blue Agathas, Irish Elegance roses and pink, white and delicate blue carnations, (the latter resulting from the ingenuity of Mrs. Porter) all in a color harmony suggestive of infancy and its loveliness.

Bridge was played with Mrs. L. P. Damewood carrying off honors and receiving a set of Madeira tea-napkins. To Mrs. John Fletcher, holding second high score, was presented a pair of attractive linen guest-towels while Miss Estelle Nisson received a dainty pendant as consolation.

Guest prize of an exquisite rose color negligee was given Mrs. Huff while table prizes of a pair of Yost theater tickets fell to the fortunate lot of Mrs. Palmer, Miss Northcross, Miss Nisson, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Fletcher. At the tea hour, a dainty refreshment menu was served at card tables decked in flowers of the prevailing color tints.

Bridge Entertains Assembled Guests In Dale Home

Bringing to a conclusion a series of pleasantly planned spring functions, Mrs. H. H. Dale entertained a congenial guest group at a bridge tea recently at her home, 415 Birch street.

Roses in all colors together with mixed bouquets of all the flowers of spring, offered gay decoration to the pretty home where guests enjoyed an interesting contest. Mrs. Susan Rutherford proved most skillful with Mrs. W. N. Prince a close second. Each received a dainty gift as did Mrs. Ralph Mosher holding low score.

The gift award was made as the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Loring Dale and Mrs. Charles Claytor, served a dainty tea menu in two courses, at tables decked with charming effect in Cecil Brunner buds blue forget-me-nots and breath of heaven, arranged in low crystal bowls.

Mrs. Dale's guest list for her final spring party included Mesdames W. A. Huff, Parke Roper, Walter N. Prince, Fred Chapman, Addie Collins, George Briggs, F. W. Davis, R. A. Mosher, Charles Kendall sr., E. S. Gilbert, Leonard G. Swales, W. A. Flood, Roy Hall, I. W. Landis, R. G. Tutthill, W. L. Deimling, Walter Vandermast, El S. Morrow, A. W. Rutan, J. I. Clark.

Ebell Section Guest Reverses Matters; Becomes Hostess

An off-honored guest and an ever welcome one of the Fourth Travelers of Ebell club, is Mrs. Samuel N. Nau who yesterday returned courtesies often extended her, by entertaining in turn, the members of the section, at her attractive suburban home.

"We thought of Frederick O'Brien and his 'paper wings' on which to travel when we heard the program," declared one member of the section who related the interesting points of the program as set forth by Mrs. C. P. Boyer, reviewing "Kimono" by John Pariah and Mrs. D. A. Harwood who chose "Mysterious Japan" by Julian Street.

The two excellent reviews brought forth a lively discussion which yielded other worth-while facts and added to the pleasure of the event.

Mrs. Nau as "official hostess" departed from the established custom of the section, and served a delectable tea menu and the guests chatted, dalled over the tea-cups and enjoyed the wonderful flowers with which the home was filled. These included a wealth of snowballs, lilacs and pink roses in vivid color harmony with an occasional perfect specimen of an unusual rose given honor in a bud vase.

Among the guests enjoying Mrs. Nau's hospitality were Mesdames F. L. Andrews, H. C. Wiley, T. D. Knights, G. H. Dobson, D. H. Cook, J. S. Warner, Floyd G. Spencer, J. C. Harwood, C. F. Boyer, J. C. Schmidt, and Minnie Holmes, while Mrs. Wade Warner, recently arrived from Salt Lake City, was a guest of the section.

Betrothal Told At Birthday Party

When friends of Miss Olive Morris gathered last night at the invitation of her grand-mother, Mrs. John Morris, to aid in celebrating the eighteenth birthday of the honoree, it was to be treated to a happy surprise when Miss Olive's engagement and approaching marriage to Mr. Wilbur Phips was announced.

The party was a delightfully planned one and apparently was a true birthday affair, since the engagement announcement was withheld until the refreshment hour when dainty placecards told the happy news. At the same time, the announcement of the wedding was made and June 4 was set as the auspicious date.

Decorations of the John Morris home at 1018 West Fifth street, where the party was given, were all in red and white with glorious roses, gay little kewpies and countless red hearts adding to the effect. At the refreshment hour, interest centered in the great white cake bearing the figures "18" in red on its iced surface.

Merry games and contests filled a happy evening for those present. Among the guests were Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Viola Phips, mother of the bride-groom-to-be; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Morris, parents of the honoree; Miss Olive Morris, the little bride-elect, with her fiancé, Mr. Phips, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Layton and son, Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Woods, Miss Katherine Morris, Miss Gertrude Morris and Mr. Arthur Heard.

Susan Rutherford, L. A. Collier, C. D. Holmes, H. T. Duckett, Elton R. Roehm, W. R. Sylvester, George Lester, Lewis Moulton, C. S. Keeley, Lester, Lewis Moulton, C. S. Kelley, and M. A. Patton.

Bridge Series Concluded With Tea Presented Yesterday

The triplicate of a charmingly planned afternoon sponsored by Mrs. E. S. Gilbert and Mrs. J. Fred Parsons, was that held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Gilbert, 420 South Main street.

California's own flowers, great golden poppies, offered the floral motif for each of the three events, and yesterday were massed in profusion throughout the rooms as they were at previous events held Tuesday and Wednesday.

Bridge was the chosen diversion and each time, the hostesses chose to make their prize awards of articles dear to housewives' hearts. Great soft bath towels formed the first prize with a pair of dainty linen guest towels for the holder of second high score. A deck of fine playing cards was the gift awarded the holders of low score.

At yesterday's affair, the gifts fell to Mrs. Earl Morrow, Mrs. M. A. Yarnell and Mrs. Theo. Lacey, while Wednesday's winners were Mrs. Morris McCain, Mrs. John Tubbs and Mrs. William H. Spurgeon.

The serving of a two-course tea menu at tables brilliant with poppies, brought each afternoon to a close. Mrs. Parsons and Mrs. Gilbert, each of whom has added greatly to the gaiety of the winter and spring social season, will allow the present series to end their hospitable efforts for awhile.

Country Club Dance

Swinging into the gay tempo of summer time, Country club members will dance at the second happy affair of the summer dancing season, Thursday night, May 3 when Mrs. J. L. Wheeler will entertain at the Little brown clubhouse.

In arranging for the success of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler secured the popular Chapman orchestra for their music and an affair of equal charm with its predecessors is anticipated by all members.

To Entertain Mothers

Following an established custom at Santa Ana Junior college, the co-eds will entertain their mothers at a delightfully planned tea, Wednesday afternoon, May 2. Elaborate plans are being made for the event and the recently dedicated Y. W. C. A. hut will offer harmonious setting.

WASHINGTON HAD GOOD RECORD AS BOOK AGENT

CHICAGO, April 27.—George Washington is one of the great Americans who have given the business of selling books from house to house a historic background. The Father of His Country was in early life a "book agent."

This little-known fact was recalled at meeting of subscription book publishers here in an address by R. S. Branch of Chicago. "When Washington was 20 years old," said Branch, "he sold a book known as Blyden's 'American Savage.' The year before, he had carried military messages from Richmond, Virginia, to Fort Duquesne on the site of modern Pittsburgh, and it was because of interest in the Indians that his experience had awakened in him that he started out to sell this book. It cost him $2 a copy and he sold it at $3. His diary shows that he sold more than 500 copies, riding long distances to deliver the books himself in his saddle-bags."

Announcement of Romantic Wedding Surprise to Friends

Congratulations and happy wishes were today being showered upon Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson by hosts of friends who found the recent romantic marriage of the pair of youngsters, full of interest and cause for rejoicing.

Mrs. Thompson was Miss Virginia Witman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Witman, 730 Orange avenue and an Orange County Business College girl as well as a Santa Ana high school girl. The husband of her choice is one of the well-known "Thompson twins," and with his brother George is as popular among the members of their circle as is his bride.

The marriage of the youthful pair was an event of Wednesday, March 28 and occurred at the Congregational parsonage, Riverside. While their engagement was known and sanctioned by Mr. and Mrs. Witman, the marriage was thought of as an event of the distant future, until the young couple took matters into their own hands. Their first intention to keep their happy secret, yielded to the bride's desire that her mother should know of her happiness, so yesterday the confession was made and today, Mr. and Mrs. Witman are announcing the wedding to their friends and the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson will join her husband in Long Beach where they will go to housekeeping for the present and where Mr. Thompson is employed in the oil fields.

FINANCIAL REVIEW

Market Undisturbed As Professionals Seek Profits In Oil Shares

NEW YORK, April 27.—Another cut in gasoline prices today found the stock market in quite a different position than it was in the beginning of the downward revision of oil schedules when the general list was thrown into a condition of irregularity two weeks ago.

Professional operators attempted to capitalize this development as they have done on the announcement of the previous reduction. Their offerings today were absorbed without the slightest disturbance to the market as a whole.

Liquidation in a number of petroleum shares had no influence on other issues of the list. Even when the selling was in progress operations for the rise went ahead in several stocks. These activities were particularly impressive because of the character of the issues in which they occurred.

Professional operators attempted to capitalize this development as they have done on the announcement of the previous reduction. Their offerings today were absorbed without the slightest disturbance to the market as a whole.

HUBBY'S PAY CRUX

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—Mrs. Tom Forman, formerly Mary Mersch, Fox film star, announced today that she would file divorce proceedings against her actor-director husband as soon as she could ascertain the amount of his salary in order to protect the interest of their one child, a 3 year old son.

The Formans were married five years ago when Tom Forman was in the army and Mrs. Forman, then Mary Mersch, was leading lady for William Farnum.

According to Mrs. Forman, Forman claims he is getting $500 a week now for directing at the Schubert studios, but she says she is positive he is making nearly $1500 a week out of pictures.

SORRY TO MISS RACES WRITES
GOVERNOR

Only the pressure of official business will keep Governor Friend W. Richardson away from Santa Ana on Auto Resurrection Day, Saturday, May 5, according to an announcement by Commander Franklin Grouard, Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, here today.

"We invited the Governor to be our guest of honor when the great parade and racing events are held May 5," said Grouard. "We realized, of course, that, with the legislature in session and important matters up for discussion, it would be difficult for Governor Richardson to leave Sacramento at this time. Today we received the following letter from Governor Richardson:

"I have your letter of the 19th inst., and wish to thank you for your cordial invitation to be a guest of honor on Auto Resurrection Day, Saturday, May 5.

"The pressure of public business prevents my acceptance.

"I thank you for your kind consideration and wish you every success in your unique undertaking."

Representative Phil Swing is among those invited to be guests of honor on this occasion.

WOMAN IN DIVORCE 44
PLEA SAYS SPOUSE CALLED HER NAMES

Declaring that her husband, to whom she had been married 33 years, compelled her to pay for half of the gasoline consumed in their automobile, and that he accused her of infidelity, called her names, and threatened to hit her with a chair, Mary M. Sadler today brought suit for divorce in superior court here against her husband, John W. Sadler.

They were married March 25, 1885, and separated at La Habra, April 23 of this year, the complaint asserted.

The husband compelled the plaintiff to purchase half of the groceries and pay for half of the automobile fuel, she said, although he had furnished little toward their support.

He accused her frequently of associating with other men, and once said that she had let a man out of the window as he was entering the house, the complaint asserted.

Attorney E. Koepsel prepared the complaint.

CONVICTED SAILOR GETS PRISON TERM

After motions for an arrest of judgment, a new trial, and probation had been denied by Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, and the court had sentenced the defendant, convicted of a serious crime, to serve not more than 15 years in the state penitentiary, George Fellows, sailor, through his attorney, Roland Thompson, today gave oral notice of appeal of judgment.

Fellows was convicted last week after a bitter trial in which the state gave evidence of an incident which was said to have occurred on a train near Fullerton.

After the conviction, Thompson asked for an arrest of judgment on the ground that the testimony was not in accordance with the verdict, and a new trial, on the ground that the court erred in decisions.

Lengthy argument today failed to convince the court, however, and both motions were denied.

Questioned by Judge Williams, Fellows said that he had served 14 months in the army, including 12 months overseas with the 108th field signal battalion, and had been gassed in action. Later he re-enlisted in the army, served one year and had enlisted in the navy, he said.

When the court had denied the two first motions, Fellows asked for probation, but the court, stating that the nature of the case prevented him from complying with the request, denied it.

Judge Williams said, however, that in accordance with the wishes of the jury, he would recommend leniency to the prison board.

NAME OFFICERS TO SERVE FOR CHAUTAUQUA

Organization of the Chautauqua committees has been completed, Freeman H. Bloodgood, president, announced today. Other officers of the executive committee are Harry Warner, vice-president; Guy Gilbert, secretary, and Harry Hanson, treasurer.

Committees have been appointed as follows: Advertising, William McKay; junior chautauqua, J. A. Cranston; H. G. Nelson, D. K. Hammond; grounds, L. C. Rogers.

The chautauqua tent will be located at the corner of Birch and Third streets. The program will open May 7 and continue for seven days. Sixty-eight men have guaranteed the chautauqua to the amount of $1750.

M. C. Reed, who had charge of the program here a year ago, was in the city yesterday in conference with the local committee and following reports presented declared that the organization here was complete. He did not know whether he would be assigned as director of the local program this year.

Bloodgood announced that tickets are now on sale at Stein's, the White Cross Drug store, American National bank, Orange County Trust and Savings bank, First National bank, Santa Ana branch of the Pacific Southwest bank, Santa Ana Book store, Junior high school and the high school. Virtually all of the guarantors have tickets for sale.

Family tickets, which may be used by any member of the family, cost $2.50 each. Tickets for high school students, not transferable, may be purchased for $1.50. Junior high school and grammar grade students may buy tickets for $1 each. These also are not transferable.

Reserved seat tickets may be procured at the tent.

HELD FOR LARCENY FOR KILLING SWAN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—John Raymond of San Francisco tomorrow will face sentence on a charge of grand larceny as a result of having killed Mr. Dooley.

Mr. Dooley was a swan—pet known to hundreds of San Franciscans—in Golden Gate park. A jury convicted Raymond of having shot Dooley and one mallard duck to death on the night of January 22. The corpus delicti was proven by the introduction as an exhibit of Dooley's dead body—preserved on a cake of ice.

PLAN TO IMPROVE GAS EFFICIENCIES

For the purpose of organizing a permanent committee which will co-ordinate the research activities of all gas utilities in California into a concerted effort to study, investigate and determine ways and means for the improvement and advancement of the science of gas manufacture, distribution and utilization, representatives of the state railroad commission and the leading gas utilities of California have formed what is known as the California Gas Research council.

Prominent figures in the gas fraternity of California met recently in the offices of the railroad commission in Los Angeles, where the organization of the California Gas Research council took place. Harry L. Masser, gas engineer of the California commission, was elected chairman of the new body.

"The object of organizing the California Gas Research council," declared F. S. Wade, who represents the Southern Counties Gas company, "is to study the various problems confronting the individual gas utilities of the state. More than two years ago what was known as the Joint committee of the railroad commission conducted a series of tests with the view of determining the proper heating standard of the gas served in this state. These tests were made with the ultimate thought of giving the consumer the best possible gas at the lowest price."

"The investigation of the joint committee," continued Wade, "indicated that there are many serious problems which must be worked out by the industry. It is the aim of the newly-formed California Gas Research council, working hand and hand with the experts of the railroad commission, to develop processes and apparatus for rendering the highest possible standard of gas service to consumers in this state at a minimum cost."

Superintendent Wade, representing the local gas company, declared that plans are now under way for the involvement of a specially qualified gas engineer of recognized national ability who will be placed directly in charge of the experimental work for the Gas Research council in the capacity of executive engineer. He will visit, according to Wade, the various districts of each individual gas company, where he will make a study of specific problems.

His abdomen was pierced by one of the pickets. Adler Clemens, who was riding with Schwenckner, was uninjured. Schwenckner, who was formerly a hotel proprietor at Burnett and only recently had moved here with his family, was trying out his car for the first time this season, after having had it stored all winter.

ACCUSE MEXICAN IN DEATH OF TEN JAPS

(By United Press Leased Wire)
SACRAMENTO, Calif., April 27.—J. J. Henderson, district attorney, will ask an indictment on charges of arson against John Golden, Mexican, in connection with the burning of the Japanese mission school here in which ten children lost their lives.

The announcement follows ten days of investigation by local officials and members of the national board of fire underwriters.

N. D. Coates, negro arrested with Golden, has declared his companion set the fire, according to rumors at the court house which Henderson refuses to comment on.

EVIDENCE FOUND OF LIFE OF ANCIENTS

CORVALLIS, Ore., April 27.—Evidences of ancient civilizations in Oregon continue to be discovered every year, according to Professor J. B. Horner, director of historical research in the Oregon Agricultural college, here.

The most recent of these evidences to be studied by Professor Horner are paintings made by a race of sun worshippers on the basaltic ledges of the Columbia river gorge. Professor Horner declares these belong to the "lost arts," for the colors appear to be more enduring than the rock upon which they are painted. Portions of the rock have broken away, destroying parts of the crude pictures. The majority are still intact, however, and despite the attacks of wind and weather, continue to be sufficiently legible for study. The colored symbols on the Columbia are the most numerous on the cliffs at Big Eddy.

IDAHO RATTLESNAKES SHIPPED TO HOLLAND

ONTARIO, Ore., April 27.—Idaho rattlesnakes are being shipped to Holland, where they will engage in the main race of the man race, the enemy of all snakes.

Robert Lambert, of Boise, has shipped 47 rattlers to Amsterdam, Holland, where they will be used by the Dutch government in experimental work, chiefly in the development of a serum calculated to provide a cure for rheumatism. The snakes were captured in an hour and a quarter at Black's creek, 12 miles from Boise, on the Mountain Home highway. They range from 10 to 20 inches in length.

The fangs of the snakes, removed before shipping, will be back in again in three weeks, and the Hollanders will have to move warily in unspicing the food, which will be ready for striking and causing a different kind of rheumatism.

Beetles living forty or fifty feet apart can communicate by knocking their heads on the wood in a peculiar rhythm.

VETS BACK BIG JUNK CONTEST HERE MAY 5

Auto Resurrection Day plans, a stirring address by the Rev. Percy W. Clarkson, of Orange, a brief address by Col. Harry T. Matthews, and a good bit of unadulterated "knocking" featured the meeting of Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, here, last night.

"This is 'knockers' night," said Commander Franklin Grouard, in opening the meeting, "and every member of the post may feel free to join the anvil chorus."

"Criticism, to be helpful, should be as constructive as possible, and we want every member to feel that the commander and the executive committee wish to co-operate in any movement designed to improve the most and make for better citizenship."

Urges Co-operation
"Before we do any knocking, however, I want to solicit the earnest co-operation of every American Legion member in the Auto Resurrection Day program. With a debt of something like $8,000 hanging over us, we have here a splendid opportunity to add a substantial figure to our fund. Let every man work hard to make Auto Resurrection Day a success."

Captain Joseph A. Plank, chairman of the Legion Auto Resurrection Day committee, gave a detailed report of the committee's activities, declaring the project had been widely advertised and should attract between 30,000 and 40,000 visitors to Santa Ana Saturday May 5.

Details were appointed by Commander Grouard to assist in the parade arrangements, to have charge of concessions at the race track, at the foot of South Main street, and to work with Sheriff Jernigan and City Marshal Rogers in regulating traffic and handling the crowd.

FELL EASY VICTIMS TO GERMAN RAFFLES

BERLIN, April 26.—William Wohlfahrt, Berlin's raffles, who posed as a physician, swindled more than fifty of Berlin's widows, spinsters and maidens out of their jewels and money by promising to marry them.

Wohlfahrt worked fast. He would become acquainted with a young lady of wealth and through his winning ways, win her love. Invariably he would call upon his "wife-to-be," accidentally miss the last street car home and register great consternation, that he would be obliged to walk all the way to his suburban home. Usually his "wife-to-be" would invite him to accept the "spare bedroom" for the remainder of the night. This Wohlfahrt invariably did.

During the night the gentleman burglar gathered up various and sundry jewels, watches, rings and other valuables. In the morning he insisted on going to a nearby bakery for some of his favorite sweet rolls which he promised to bring right back. Invariably he never returned—nor did the jewels.

Police arrested Wohlfahrt, discovering in his apartment a big wicker basket of valuable stolen property. He was a barber by trade.

torney, and others. It was unanimously agreed that S. H. Finley, Orange county supervisor, be invited to act as grand marshal of the parade. Justice J. B. Cox was invited to ride at the head of the parade.

The Rev. Mr. Clarkson, confining his remarks to "Americanism," stressed the necessity for active co-operation by the Legion in all matters affecting the welfare of the country. Colonel Matthews, a former resident of Santa Ana and for many years an officer in the regular army, congratulated the local post upon "the snap shown in the meetings and the excellent attendance records of the post." He warned against radicalism and urged sane consideration of all civic, state and national problems.

Post members then got out their hammers and joined merrily in the anvil chorus. Members of the Orange post convulsed the post with a comic skit.

FOREST FIRES COMBATTED IN NORTHWEST

PORTLAND, Ore., April 26.—The red menace of the forest fire is about to raise its ugly head again in the Pacific northwest, where the United States now stands. Fire Protection week, which opened April 22, therefore is one of the most important "weeks" on the northwest calendars.

Of the 1366 forest fires in the national forests of Oregon and Washington during 1922, 305 were due directly to the carelessness of smokers, while 532 others were the result of man-agency—slashing fires, campfires, locomotives, logging engines and incendiaries. Lightning was responsible for 479 or 35 per cent of the fires, according to the forestry bureau of the United States government here.

The significance of the week is the hope that people of the northwest, particularly those who are engaged in any occupation from which the safety of the forests might be endangered, will take particular pains this season in preventing disastrous blazes during the dry months of the spring and summer. The idea is being driven home in the minds of these people that it is money in their pockets to prevent fires.

Property valued at $2,435,466 was destroyed in the two states of Oregon and Washington last season. President Harding has taken cognizance of Fire Protection week and of the menace of the forest fire in the Pacific northwest, the nation's lumberyard, by issuing an official proclamation, setting the dates for the week. Governor Pierce of Oregon also issued a proclamation.

LABOR LEADERS NOW WEAR SOUP AND FISH

LONDON, April 26.—Great Britain is safe from the bogey of Bolshevism.

Labor leaders in the House of Commons, who used to be called wild men and were accused of being in league with Moscow, are wearing evening clothes to night sessions of the House.

It was three years ago that all England was discussing the imminence of a labor government, and with it was discussing seriously the possibility of Labor going over to Bolshevism.

Success has brought conservatism to the Labor ranks. There are still wild men in Commons, but mostly they are a few new members from Scotland—no more wild than some of the present pillars of Labor conservatism used to be. The recent round of social functions which some Laborites have been attending—Lady Astor's dinner, the King's dinner, and the subsequent royal afternoon party at Buckingham Palace is partly the cause of the wearing of the soup-and-fish uniform, the hated symbol of upper-classdom.

At a growing number of functions, social and political, labor men are expected to wear the dress which ordinary bourgeois convention prescribes for the occasion. There used to be a time when a Labor man, if it happened that he went anywhere in evening dress, was careful to change back into his stage clothes before he went to the House of Commons.

ENGLISH SPEAKING GIRLS ARE POPULAR

PANAMA, April 26.—"Any girl who speaks English can have a wonderful time in Maracaibo," is the tidings brought by Miss Cecilia Cooke, a resident of the Venezuelan metropolis, recently arrived in Panama with her father, who came to be treated in Panama hospital.

"Since the oil companies began to work on a big scale in Venezuela," she explained, "there are lots and lots of young engineers and managers living around Maracaibo. Whenever they have a holiday or a week-end they come into Maracaibo for dances and parties. The girls who speak English are very much sought after."

Miss Cooke herself, pretty 20-year-old daughter of an Englishman who married into one of the distinguished families of Venezuela, speaks English, Spanish and French with equal fluency.

ADRENALIN FAILS TO SAVE AGED L. B. MAN

LONG BEACH, Calif., April 27.—Adrenalin was used by police surgeons here in a vain attempt to save the life of Paul Wellbacher, 66, when he was reported to be dying. The serum caused the aged man to rally, but he died soon afterward.

10,000 LAME DUCKS IN JAPANESE MARCH

TOKYO, April 26.—Ten thousand lame ducks are to march in a parade at Taihoku, Formosa—one of the many entertainment novelties arranged for Crown Prince Regent Hirohito, who is now visiting that island.

Other stunts will include bamboo raft races and races between sampans and junks—the strange, cumbersome yet picturesque craft that are seen everywhere in Far Eastern waters.

One of the foreign-language newspapers here, printing a story about the lame-duck parade, called it, by typographical error, a "lame duck parade." An American wrote a letter to the editor, asking whether the U. S. Senate was really coming to Formosa.

Crown Prince Regent Hirohito will spend the last three weeks of April in Formosa, inspecting this largest tropical possession of his empire. The Prince is a great patron of sports, and athletic grounds, costing $50,000, have been prepared and donated to the public in honor of his visit.

A fleet of battleships will escort Hiroto to and from Formosa.

COURT ORDER DRIES UP 'RABBI'S' CELLAR

LOS ANGELES, April 27.—Harry Margolis, an asserted rabbi, had his cellar dried up today by court order. The "rabbi" who has been arrested four times on bootlegging charges, is not, under a decision rendered by Federal Judge Bledsoe, to be allowed to keep any liquor on his premises and must put up $1,000 bond as a guarantee of their aridity.

Explains How Enlarged Veins Can Be Reduced

Often Times Veins Burst and Cause Much Suffering, Expense and Loss of Employment.

Many people have become despondent because they have been led to believe that there is no remedy that will reduce swollen veins and bunches. If you will get a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength) at any first class drug store and apply it night and morning as directed you will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.

MAN TO WATCH MAINTENANCE OF STREETS, KNOX PLAN

Official Urges Public's Co-Operation In Noting Where Repairs Needed ASKS SUGGESTIONS

Will Try to Find Breaks and Eliminate Them as Speedily as Possible

Determined to see that Santa Ana streets get the best possible maintenance, W. G. Knox, city engineer and street superintendent, today was making preparations to appoint a street foreman who will give the greater part of his time to the personal supervision of this work.

"It is apparent," said Knox, "that we must give careful attention to the maintenance of our streets if we are to get the best possible results from our paving programs."

"With this thought in my mind, I have decided to put a good man on this work and to see that he keeps in close touch with every phase of his duties."

"In this connection, the residents of Santa Ana can be of great assistance to us, if they will co-operate in the movement to improve our streets."

"By this, I mean that this of-

MARITAL BATTLE OF COUPLE WED 20 YEARS IS ENDED IN HARMONY

A notice of dismissal, indicating a reconciliation in the domestic affairs of C. M. Trusty, and his wife, Ada Trusty, was on file in superior court here today.

Mrs. Trusty had first sought divorce, claiming that her husband was cruel, and compelled her to work.

Trusty, in answering, accused his wife of paying more attention to another man than to him. The couple had been married more than 20 years.

Santa Ana Canton No. 18 will entertain at 1:15 p. m., with a military drill. Musical numbers presented by members of the various lodges and branches will be given immediately following the drill. The program will be given in the pavilion and will close with an address by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the Christian church, church, Santa Ana.

With Levell's orchestra of Anaheim furnishing music, dancing will be in order from 3 to 5 p. m.

SECOND RAIL LINE BUILT OVER SIERRA

COLFAX, Cal., April 27.—The engineering and construction achievement of the sixties in the West, that of building a railroad over the Sierra from Colfax to Truckee, is today being duplicated with as little acclaim as would attend the building of a way station siding.

During the last few days double tracking operations have been started by the Southern Pacific railroad on both the east and west slopes of the Sierra along the line of the old Central Pacific. One unit is between Blue canyon and Emigrant gap and the other between Truckee and Andover station. About 15 miles of track have been selected for double tracking, if possible, before the heavy fruit movement of 1923 gets under way. Incident to the double tracking operations, the huge sheds which have protected the track from heavy snows for 60 years are being removed, it having been demonstrated that by the use of modern equipment the line can be kept open at all times.

Whether or not the project of tunneling the summit, known to have been under investigation and consideration by the Southern Pacific for several years, will be carried out in connection with the double tracking is not known here. In the event that course is adopted the electrification of the mountain division is regarded as inevitable.

HATCHET DEATH CASE SUSPECT IS JAILED

New Puzzle Revealed As $2,000 of Slain Man's Cash Disappears

Fred Casalscho, 35, was held in jail in Los Angeles today on suspicion of the murder of Nunzio Spampinato, Buena Park hatchet victim, as a result of nearly four weeks of investigation by Sheriff Sam Jernigan, in co-operation with Los Angeles police.

Casalscho was one of the men, police say, who removed the dead man's effects from his room, a few hours after the murder was committed.

Spampinato was murdered in an arroyo between Northham station and La Habra, early in the day of April 1. His head and throat were battered and cut with a lather's hatchet, which was found near by.

In the investigation which followed, Jernigan learned that two men, well dressed Italians, had gone to the dead man's room a few hours later, and had removed his clothing and property, first entering by means of a key which one of them carried.

The man in custody was said to answer the description of one of these men, and was found living near the room which he was supposed to have entered.

Authorities were collecting evidence against him, and it was expected that a warrant would be issued here before next Monday, when a habeas corpus writ, secured by Casalscho's attorney, is returnable.

Nunzio was found to have been a bootlegger, an alleged murderer, and a member of a black hand ring. At the time of his death, he was a fugitive from Los Angeles courts on a murder charge.

Although Coroner C. D. Brown, who petitioned for letters of administration in his estate, estimated the value of the estate at only several hundred dollars, it was learned yesterday that Spampinato had more money.

March 8 he drew $2,000 from a downtown bank in Los Angeles, but no trace of this money could be discovered, authorities stated. Meanwhile efforts were being made to find the man who was supposed to have accompanied Casalscho to the room when the property was removed.

WISCONSIN SOLONS IN FAVOR OF BEER

MADISON, Wis., April 27.—The Wisconsin senate yesterday voted for the return of beer by a vote of 15 to 13. The action came on a substitute amendment to the Burke resolution, which in its original form asked the repeal of the eighteenth amendment. The amendment lessens the demand to an allowance of beer with a higher alcoholic content than one-half of 1 per cent.

GUARDS MASTER'S BODY

ALBERT LEA, April 27.—The body of Vern Collins, aged 30, was found today guarded by his faithful dog near the railway tracks a mile from South Haven, Minn. Members of a passing train crew noted the dog lying beside something resembling a man and started to investigate.

At first the animal refused to permit anyone to come near the body of his master, growling and snapping at the men who tried to call him away. One of the trainmen caught the dog's collar in an unguarded moment and it was found the man was dead.

Cinco De Mayo Joins With Legion In Resurrection Program

What will probably be one of the most elaborate, gaily decorated and interesting features of the Auto Resurrection Day parade here, Saturday, May 5, is that part of the automotive pageant to be devoted to Cinco de Mayo. Mexicans of Santa Ana and Orange county whose Cinco de Mayo parades have long been looked upon as one of the annual events of note in Santa Ana have generously agreed to combine their parade this year with that of the American Legion.

Commander Franklin Grouard announced today that, by way of reciprocity, the American Legion post, under whose auspices the monster event will be given, had decided to invite the Cinco de Mayo celebrants to lead the procession.

Not only will the Cinco de Mayo parade be joined with that of Legion, but the musical program arranged by the Auto Resurrection Day committee and that of Cinco de Mayo will be combined at Birch Park in the evening. S. J. Mustol, director of music in Santa Ana schools, is arranging the Legion's part of the musical program.

FRIEND OF INDIAN PRINCES TO ADDRESS 'Y' MEETING IN S. A.

Reservations were being made today for the Foreign Work dinner of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., to be held May 1 at 6:30 p. m. at the Spurgeon Memorial church, according to T. P. McKee, secretary in charge.

Alvah L. Miller, since 1916 general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Lahore, India, will be the speaker of the evening. His subject will be "The Mohammedan in India and His Outlook Today."

Lahore, at which Miller served, is the capital of the Punjab, with a population of 230,000. It has its university with 15,000 students, and is the chief military center for that part of India.

Miller's stories will tell of his appointment by the British government as a member of the board of the missionary council for the Punjab; of his intimate association with the leading officials and educators both British and Indian in the north of India. He will tell of his contact with Indian rulers, Mohammedan and Hindu leaders, and other public men.

MURPHY WINNER OF RAISIN DAY RACES

FRESNO, Calif., April 27.—Jimmy Murphy roared his way to victory yesterday in the Raisin day classic here on the speedway and broke the track record set by himself a year ago, by making the 150 mile course in one hour, 26 minutes, 54.61 seconds, or an average of 103.61 miles an hour.

Second place went to Eddie Hearne, third to Bennett Hill, fourth to Earl Cooper, who fruitlessly tried to place second in the last thirty laps of the race, fifth to Frank Elliott, sixth to Joe Thomas, seventh to Wade Morton, who was forced to retire in the eighty-ninth lap on account of a broken piston, and ninth to Harry Hartz, who dropped out on the seventy-eighth lap on account of a broken connecting rod.

AUXILIARY MEMBER WILL DRIVE ROARING PACKARD IN "PETTICOAT SPECIAL"

Can you name them? If you can, and are a woman, and not a member, or a relative of a member of the American Legion or Legion Auxiliary, write out your list and send it to Horace Fine, Automobile Editor of The Santa Ana Register.

To the woman turning in the most complete list of correct names, the American Legion committee will award a ten dollar merchandise order on any store in Santa Ana the winner may designate.

To the woman turning in the next best list, a $5 merchandise order will be given.

In the event of a tie the prizes will be divided accordingly.

In the picture are eleven of Santa Ana's most popular and beautiful young women. All are members of the Legion Auxiliary and are intensely interested in the "Petticoat Special," which will be a feature of the monster parade and racing program to be given by the American Legion on Saturday, May 5.

One of these beautiful women is "Tillie the Toller," who will pilot "Big Bertha," the roaring, rattling Packard roadster purchased especially for this race by H. H. Dale and company, local Reo and Packard distributors.

"Tillie" wishes to keep her identity a secret until the day of the race and in order to assist her in this desire, ten other members of the Auxiliary have donated masks in order to carry out the mystery angle of the affair.

Ten women have signified their intention of contesting for the $100 in prizes to be distributed among the three winners of first division honors in the "Petticoat Special." This money will be divided $50 to the winner, $35 to the car finishing second, and $15 to the car coming in third. Women of the Legion have generously offered to turn their winnings over to the American Legion for use in the Legion building fund, in the event "Tillie the Toller" pilots "Big Bertha" to victory.

Women who expect to send in lists in the "Masked Beauty" contest are urged to do so promptly, as answers must be filed not later than 5 p. m. Monday, April 30. The names must be in order, reading from left to right as the pictures appear in the paper.

The names and address of the person submitting the list must accompany each reply. Also, designate the store on which you wish to have your order drawn.

Representatives of each of the visiting associations will speak, as will the visiting executives.

SILVER WEDDING FOR ROYALTY OF SWEDEN

COPENHAGEN, April 27.—The silver wedding anniversary of King Christian and Queen Alexandra of Sweden was celebrated yesterday at the Frensberg castle, where thirty and forty years ago nearly all the crowned heads of Europe were accustomed to gather around the picturesque figure of "Europe's father-in-law."

Here for the festivities were King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf of Norway; Prince Waldemar, King Christian's brother, Queen Alexandrine's sister, the former crown princess of Germany and her children, and the Duke and Duchess of Cumberland.

OPEN VALENCIA $1845.28 SET SEASON IN DISTRICT AS MINIMUM FOR FIVE

The first Valencia oranges to be shipped from this district in marketable quantities went forward from Orange to Eastern consignees today.

The Santiago Orange Growers' association, said to be the largest packing plant in the state, won the distinction of dispatching the first Valencia to market.

The plant, which began picking operations Wednesday, began packing activities today, when half of the big plant was thrown open. According to officials of the plant the season will start slowly, gaining momentum as it advances.

It was estimated that a trifle more than four cars, heavily loaded, would be dispatched eastward the first day. This average will be maintained during the early stages of the season.

Activities to Gain
Later, operations will start full blast when from eight to nine cars a day will be shipped.

According to packing house authorities, the 1923 season looks as a little better than normal in this district.

In the state as a whole it is predicted that the crop will hardly approach normal.

The outlook in this district is "very favorable," authorities stated. The bulk of the crop will run to medium sizes, with very little small fruit evident.

At the outset, however, when first pickings are made usually of young trees, the sizes are apt to run large, simmering down later to the medium size.

After a poor season in 1922 owing to the disastrous freeze and burning winds early in this year, citrus growers generally look upon a return to normalcy this season.

To Surpass Mark
During the last normal year, 1921, the Santiago packing plant shipped approximately 900 cars of Valencia. This season this mark is expected to be surpassed; by no great margin, but slightly it was said.

The local association will run continuously, without a break, from now until about the middle of November.

According to packing officials, the association this year has increased its membership, accepting much new acreage. For the past two years the plant had had its membership books closed.

Now, however, with expansion of the plant in view in order to care for the increase, the association has decided to accept new members right along.

Meanwhile, other plants in the district are polishing up their machinery for the start of their season, in most instances, several days later than the local plant.

Other Plants to Open
At McPherson, the McPherson Heights Citrus association will begin picking Monday morning when three crews will be sent into the fields. Packing operations will begin a day or so later. The McPherson plant expects to ship between two and three cars daily at the outset.

The Villa Park Orchards association now engaged in cleaning up sweets, will begin operations tomorrow.

The Red Fox Orchards Inc., this city, began picking operations yesterday. Packing it is reported, will begin Tuesday. Operating with a half crew, both in the field and in the house, the Red Fox plant expects to send two cars a day to market.

At Olive two packing plants, the Olive Heights Citrus association and the Olive Hillside Orchards, both are expected to start picking activities Tuesday morning.

Using about a third of a crew, the Olive Heights plant will launch proceedings by shipping about five cars a week. The association this year expects to ship 225 cars to market as compared with 193 last season.

The Hillside orchards plant will commence by dispatching nearly two cars daily to market, operating with almost a full crew.

SELECT 703 MOTION PICTURES AS BEING GOOD ENTERTAINMENT

NEW YORK, April 27.—That there are 703 motion pictures of the 1574 submitted to the national board of review during 1922 and now available, which constitute worth-while entertainment, is revealed by the 1922-23 catalog entitled "Selected Pictures," just issued. This catalog, which is compiled by the national committee for better films, affiliated with the national board, at 70 Fifth avenue, New York, lists pictures of feature length, short comedies, acrobatics, cartoons, reviews and various entertainment-educational chosen by the disinterested volunteer committees of the board at the time the pictures came before it for possible editing and action as to passage.

One of the most valuable features of the catalog is its designation of age-group suitability for each film listed. Three hundred and forty films suitable for young people, in age from 13 up and from 10 up, are specially marked, thus affording a guide to the selection of pictures for special young people's entertainments and for the patronage of children as supervised by careful parents. They are the ideal "family group" films, as everyone both young and old can understand and enjoy them.

ENGLISH LIVING GOES UP WITH POUND VALUE
LONDON, April 27.—The pound's rise in the New York market brings rejoicing to the financier, but it doesn't mean anything to the little fellow. Costs of living in England have advanced 33 per cent in the last year.

CAN SUPPORT MANY
VANCOUVER, B. C., April 27.—British Columbia is said to be capable of supporting a population of 20,000,000.

Radio supplies at Hawley's.

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—The average working man with a wife and three children needs $1,845.28 a year to maintain a minimum health and decency standard of living in Philadelphia, according to a report of the Municipal Research bureau.

This is an increase of 6.4 per cent in the cost of living in the past year and 13.3 per cent in the past five years.

But there are a number of things in the standard budget as prepared by the bureau which are likely to cause a flare-back from Mr. Husband or Mrs. Wife.

Under this budget, one hairbrush a year can do duty for the entire family and a single comb can keep it company. Nothing is provided for savings or doctors' bills, medicine, dentists, oculist and all other health items must positively not cost more than 92 cents a week.

Mr. Husband's overcoat must be only 40 per cent wool and it gives him three years' wear. If he is economical he may have two shirts, two pairs of $4 shoes, one half of a 50-cent belt, one pair of garters, and he can send one collar a week to the laundry.

Mrs. Wife can't have a single pair of silk stockings, but she can have two sets of winter underwear to her husband's one. Her coat must last two years and the $4.50 hat must last the same length of time. She may have a half dozen 10-cent handkerchiefs, four $25 suits every four months and $6.25 for house dresses.

The budget provides 77¢ a piece for overcoats for two boys, each to wear two years, $3 shoes, and one winter and one summer night-shirt each.

Limit for Haircuts
Fourteen haircuts are limited to the family of five each year and Mr. Husband can have one shave a month. A 10-cent clothesline and twenty-four clothespins each year is provided for and a dollar a week is allowed for the replacement of household equipment.

Forty-five cents a week is allowed for amusements and the children's toys and the amount set aside for education, postage, reading and stationery is about 25 cents a week.

For spending money, legal expenses, funerals and incidentals, the budget allows $38.88 a year.

The specified standard in the budget follows:

Housing ..... $440.00
Fuel and light ..... 103.70
Food ..... 536.54

Clothing—
Husband ..... $4.29
Wife ..... 3.04

Boy of 13 ..... 74.44
Girl of 10 ..... 74.50
Boy of 6 ..... 45.10

Care fare ..... 44.25
Cleaning, supplies, service, 49.60

In the unspecified standard the budget lists the following:

Health ..... $47.51
Furniture and furnishings, 50.57
Taxes, dues, contributions, 32.25
Recreation and amusement, 22.99
Education and reading, 18.29
Insurance ..... 58.23

Spending money, moving and incidentals ..... 88.38

Mr. Husband under the budget rules may make Mrs. Wife jealous by having $1.25 more a year to spend on his clothes.

10,000-YEAR-OLD AX HEAD FOUND IN BRITISH GRAVEYARD

LONDON, April 27.—A curious story lies behind the finding of a neolithic ax head in the parish churchyard at Gulsley, Yorkshire. It was dug up by the grave-digger, T. M. Thompson, who has been using it for months to scrape the soil from his boots, not being aware of its archaeological value.

The ax head is about six inches across and tapers toward the ends to a sharp point. The grave-digger said on one occasion the warden happened to be passing and noticed the ax head and advised him to show it to the rector. This he did, with the result that it was pronounced to be a very fine specimen of a neolithic ax head. It is at present in the Leeds museum.

Commenting on the discovery, C. R. Wray of Manor House, Gulsley, remarked that it was quite probable that the ax was over 10,000 years old.

UGLIEST WOMAN GETS BIG PAY FROM SHOW

NEW YORK, April 27.—As somebody was it Flo Ziegfeld?—once said: "A thing of beauty is a joy at the box office."

But ugliness, if it is sufficiently so, will roll up a fat bank account for you just as quickly.

Only you must be ugly enough. Just plain, everyday homeliness won't get you anything, but a friendly smile from the boss' wife and a nice, comfortable seat along the wall at any tea dante. But supreme, insurmountable ugliness, such as that boasted by Mrs. Mary Ann Bevins, will make a moneyed woman of you.

Mrs. Bevins is the woman whose surprisingly ill-assorted features won her the title in her native England of "the world's ugliest woman."

Sits At Circus
Day by day she sits between the Abyssinian, "What Is It," and the "bearded lady" in the freak tent of the circus at Madison Square garden, while a curious throng stares at her thick hands, stooped shoulders and unbeautiful face.

Put on Saturday nights she draws a check that would turn Helen Lee Worthing or Phoebe Lee, Broadway stars, pale green with envy.

"It's not so bad," says Mrs. Bevins, "since it is for the children. I worked on a farm before, plowing, beside the oxen. Early and late, up and down the fields, and we hardly got a living."

"When I was the contest for the ugliest woman they gave me a big prize, which I put in the bank, and paid me four pounds a week to appear in public. Then I came to America with the circus at much more money—oh, much more."

Boy In Navy
"Now I have my two youngest children in boarding school, and my oldest boy is at Constantinople, in the navy. I will educate all of them, and put enough money in the bank to make them independent for life."

Her children are normal, good-looking, healthy youngsters. When she speaks of them she smiles. And when she smiles, Mary Ann claims to the title of the ugliest woman in the world goes tottering. For an amazing change comes over her coarse, unlovely face and touches it with a kind of beauty.

Mrs. Bevins is happy and satisfied. Being ugly is very inexpensive and simple. Broadway beauties who prance nightly before an admiring public must spend their money for those nifty, negligible pothings which enhance their charms. Mary Ann Bevins has only one cheap yellow dress to buy.

Ziegfeldian coryphées may be permitted to visit Palm Beach in season, but Mary Ann Bevins will get to see the whole country with the circus—and see it thoroughly.

WORK ON NEW COUNTRY CLUB GROUNDS TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Work will begin at once in building the course, the fairways, the greens and the clubhouse for the new Santa Ana Country club, according to an announcement made here today by Guy Gilbert, chairman of the membership committee, following the annual meeting of the Orange County Country club at St. Ann's Inn last night. The improvements will be made on the 144-acre site recently purchased at Santa Ana Heights.

Enthusiasm marked reports of committees disclosing that reorganization of the club under the name of Santa Ana Country club was moving along satisfactorily, with indications that within the year the new organization would have a new clubhouse and the most modern golf grounds.

The finance committee has worked out a program where two hundred members will be admitted to membership on the deferred payment plan.

Seen As Investment. The payments will be $100 with application and the same amount January 1, 1924, July 1, 1924 and January 1, 1925. The first 200 men making application will be given the privilege of the plan, while the remaining 200 of the 400 memberships will be accepted only on payment in lump of the full amount of $300.

"From an investment point of view, a membership in the club will undoubtedly be a good investment," said Gilbert. "The history of like clubs, where membership is limited, has shown that within two years a large waiting list has developed, with memberships increasing in value two or three times the original fee."

Gilbert said the membership committee would soon organize for an active drive for members.

To Extend Invitations. The other committee members are A. S. Ralph, J. L. Wheeler, H. B. Van Dine and J. E. Preston. An invitation will be extended to men of the city to join the club as charter members.

J. L. Wheeler, Ed McWilliams and George B. Shattuck were re-elected members of the board of directors. Three of the nine members are elected each year.

Reports of the treasurer and secretary revealed that all indebtedness against the Orange County Country club had been paid.

There are no outstanding obligations and there is no surplus in the treasury. The membership is 306, a gain of 100 in the past year. The board of directors will meet soon and organize.

The board of directors of the new Santa Ana club have organized by electing as officers the same men who hold office in the old club. Charles Twist was named as president, Gilbert vice-president, Ed McWilliams treasurer and George B. Shattuck secretary.

SOLDIER EXECUTED; LATER EXONERATED

PARIS, April 27.—Shot in 1914, at the very beginning of the war, as a German spy, Professor Copie, of Laon, has just been the object of a pathetic ceremony at the Amiens courtmartial when the officers composing the tribunal, at the termination of a trial which rehabilitated the memory of the professor, rose and repeated after the presiding officer:

"Copie, you died for France."

The teacher was arrested in September, 1914, by soldiers of a territorial regiment. Copie had fled from his home before the advancing Germans, and in order that the invaders might not profit by certain maps of the district which he possessed he was taking them away with him. When he was arrested in the woods the soldiers found also in his possession a passport issued for Germany, souvenir of a trip made a year previously. The troops were escorting their prisoner to Chamouilles, the seat of a courtmartial, when they were attacked by Uhlans. Fearing that the prisoner might fall into the hands of the Germans, for whom they believed he was acting as an agent, a sergeant gave the order to shoot him, which was immediately carried out. It was the trial of this sergeant, as a result of the patient efforts of the teacher's family, that brought about his rehabilitation.

ASK CUREW RETURN. SIOUX CITY, Ia., April 25.—The return of the curfew and more rigid enforcement of ordinances which have for their purpose the prevention of juvenile delinquency is being advocated by the Sioux City Woman's club. A proposal to establish patrols in the city parks and to lock and bar gates to cemeteries after sunset was made by the committee.

ONE MAN OPERATES OWN TROLLEY LINE

RANDOLPH, Mass., April 26.—One man—perhaps another Jim Hill in the making—now owns and operates the five-mile trolley line between here and Stroughton.

When the Eastern Massachusetts Street railway discontinued service because it did not pay, Raymond French, 22, then one of the company's carmen, leased the line, bought three shabby, old cars and began operation of his now famous one-man traction system. He has the hearty support of the citizens of both the towns he serves.

How to Be Free of Cold All Winter

A Timely Warning!

Every one knows that even the slightest cold, if not taken in time or neglected, often develops into a serious ailment.

Don't neglect them; they are dangerous. At the first sign of a chill, or sneezing, start taking Hyland's 14—a mild, safe remedy that is different from other cold remedies. It does not contain any drug that is habit-forming or depresses the heart. It gives results at once, yet is perfectly safe even for children, as it contains no quinine, no aspirin, no acetanilid.

Carry a package in your pocket or handbag to keep yourself in good condition. Hyland's 14 is on sale at all druggists. C. S. Kelley Drug Store, corner 4th and Main streets.—Adv.

MOST ORPHANS HAVE DIVORCED PARENTS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Orphanages contain fewer orphan children, than ones with living parents, according to Miss Mabel Weed, secretary of the Council of Social and Health Agencies, following a tour of children's institutions maintained by the Community Chest.

Relatives usually adopt orphan children, or some friend of the dead parents will take them, but children of divorced couples are usually let alone—no one wants to get mixed up in a family quarrel.

French not only meets all the trains, but the school children, as well. He sees that they get across the streets safely and does a little shopping for their mothers as part of his policy of "real service." In the evening when the kiddies are abed, mothers and fathers go away to the movies in French's car and he brings them home when the town closes up for the night.

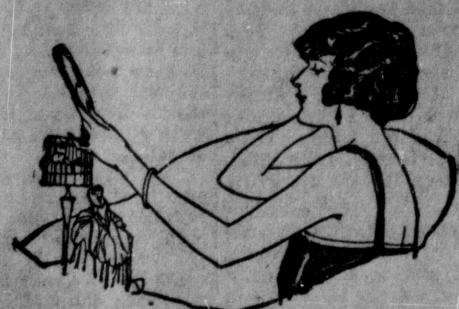

As president, board of directors, superintendent, starter, repairman, switchman and section hand, French decided that to make his line pay he would have to inaugurate a freight and express service. Now he carries anything from a can of sardines to trunks and bags of flour. He shops for busy mothers and gets cigars for fathers who can't leave home at night, much to the satisfaction of all.

French's income is steadily increasing and although he is not yet in the millionaire class, he is making a comfortable living.

His weekly revenue averages $150, he says. Of that amount about $40 a week goes for power, supplied by meter, and he pays two mechanics who help keep the cars running, $25 a week each. What remains goes into the bank to the credit of Raymond French, traction magnate extraordinary.

'REAL MEN' ARE WANTED FOR AIR FLIGHT EXPEDITION TO FIND GARDEN OF EDEN OFF

LONDON, April 27.—There is a fine opportunity open for "real men" who want a "thrilling adventure" with Capt. G. H. Mallin and Commander MacMillan, who are planning a round-the-world aeroplane flight.

Anyone who wants to lead a Robinson Crusoe existence for a few months may join with Captain Mallin's expedition not for the air flight, but for the dreary work of conducting maintenance stations in distant and little-known lands. "I want some real adventurers," Captain Mallin said in discussing his plans. "I have obtained a few already."

To Make Preparations. "Before we start flying a steam yacht is to be dispatched to lay petrol, food and ammunition dumps in a trail on volcanic islands from the Aleutians and the Kurils to Japan."

"On that boat, which we are naming the 'S.V. Frontiersman,' we shall have a crew of 35 and a body of 'adventurers,' who will be left on these islands, well armed, to protect these dumps."

"The men will be literally marooned, like a Crusoe or a Ben Gunn, and have to fish and shoot for necessity rather than sport."

"The skipper of the boat—which we have bought—is Commander Littlehale, who was in charge of a Russian icebreaker in the great war, was more than once threatened with execution in the Russo-Japanese war."

Sportsman in Charge. "He's a great sportsman, and so is Captain Pocock, who will take charge of the dump depositing in preparation for the flight to follow, and so are two flight commanders, who will be on board and see after our landing stations."

"You see we mean to take no chances this time. We do not intend to rely on local preparations."

"As for our machine, it will be the last word in aircraft. We shall take time to meet the yacht at Tokyo and get from it the charts of the hidden dumps."

"It will follow the Vancouver, and while we cross the American continent the yacht will steam to the South Sea Islands and back up the east coast of Brazil to the west coast of Africa and home."

"In the meantime we will fly to Newfoundland, Greenland and Iceland."

The date of departure of the expedition is still indefinite.

PEKING, April 26.—Arlington radio station will tick off the time for the map makers in the Garden of Eden or in what many scientists believe is the original scene of the snake and apple episode.

The Third Asiatic Expedition is today on its way over the Gobi desert bound for Western Mongolia where rare fossil finds have already been encouraging enough to lead the scientists to make a determined search for the birthplace of man.

Part of the expedition will go into the southern part of the Gobi about 800 or 900 miles west and a little north of Peking to search for fossilized fig leaves, snake's legs and any other thing that will increase knowledge of early animal and possibly human life.

Accuracy Essential. This section is carrying an up to date radio receiving set, for use in map making. With the set are chronometers that must be occasionally corrected to the fraction of a second for a slight error in time would mean many yards, even miles. The resulting map for instance might show the apple and fig trees on a mountain peak where a snake could never crawl and the whole thing would be spoiled.

Consequently the American Legation wireless plant will receive its time directly from Arlington and with the aid of a chronometer record and relay it to the expedition in the Gobi.

The other part of the expedition will go 500 miles or so west of Urga, in the wooded hills to continue the work begun last year. Their discoveries were revolutionary so far as geological theories are concerned and they expect still greater finds.

Fossilized Mosquitoes. They didn't find Adam or Eve but they found the mosquitoes that bit them if they were there, fossilized and harmless but perfectly preserved. They found huge reptiles supposed to have existed only in other parts of the world. Among these were reptiles with legs that might have stood upright as it has been said the snake did before he got Adam and Eve to worrying about spring suits. They also proved that Mongolia was once a much warmer country, a delightful place to live, which is in itself encouraging for the present climate is too cold, even on summer nights for fig leaf garments.

The expedition has a fleet of American motor trucks reinforced by some fifty camels and equipment that makes it comfortable if not luxurious living.

Realize what Kellogg's Bran means to your family's health?

Eaten regularly each day, Kellogg's Bran will permanently relieve constipation; it will free you from dangerous toxic poisons that lead to 90% of all human illness; it will remove the cause and sweeten a bad breath; it will clear a pimply complexion through its work on the bowels. In fact, Kellogg's Bran, through its natural action as a bulk, indigestible agent, will tone-up the whole system!

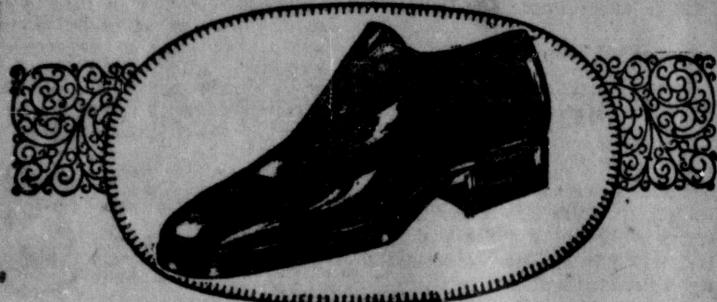

If you knew exactly what constipation means from a medical viewpoint you would lose no time eating Kellogg's Bran yourself and serving it daily to your family. And, Kellogg's is actually delicious, its nut-like flavor adding greatly to the enjoyment of eating cereals. Eat at least two table-spoonfuls each day; in chronic cases, with each meal.

There are many attractive ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it in winter with hot milk as a cereal. Or, mix it with cereals before serving. Many housewives cook it with cereals, in each case adding two table-spoonfuls for each person. You will also enjoy the nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran when it has been sprinkled over hot or cold cereals.

You have missed some of the joys of life if you have not eaten raisin bread, muffins, griddle-cakes, etc., made with Kellogg's Bran. Recipes are printed on each box.

Don't delay your fight against constipation; don't lose a minute in the great battle against illness! You can buy Kellogg's Bran from all grocers and you can have it served in individual packages at first-class hotels, restaurants and clubs.

TEMPLE—"Bella Donna," with Pola Negri.
WEST END—"Wagon Tracks," with William S. Hart.

DUPLICATE EGYPT SCENERY FOR "BELLA DONNA"

Travelers who have visited Cairo and the lower regions of the Nile will find in Pola Negri's first American picture, "Bella Donna," which is the current attraction at the Temple theater, more of the real Egypt than they were ever privileged to see during their actual visits.

According to Dudley Stuart Corlett, special technical adviser and a noted Egyptologist, real Egypt can only be found far from the points of contact with European civilization. Inasmuch as "Bella Donna" calls for the Egypt of the Egyptians, Corlett has supplied the picture with genuine and little known scenic backgrounds.

Perhaps the most beautiful and slightly known is the temple of Abu Simbel in upper Egypt, which was reconstructed for this picture by George Fitzmaurice, the producer. This structure, carved from the living rock on the bank of the Nile, is so constructed that its interior is illuminated by the rising sun for only five minutes of the day just at dawn.

The temple serves as the background of a meeting between Pola Negri in the title role of this Paramount picture with Baroudi, played by Conway Tearle. Other members of the cast are Conrad Nagel, Lois Wilson, Claude King and Macey Harlan.

CHAPLIN AS MINISTER IS RIOT AT YOST

Here are some of the things which Charles Chaplin as "The Pilgrim" learns a minister should not do:

Clap his hands after the choir sings a hymn.
Pull out a package of cigarettes in the pulpit.

Act as a "spotter" for the gentlemen who take up the collection.
Bow to the congregation when he finishes his sermon.

These are some of the things that "The Pilgrim" does. But then he is not a regular person—merely an escaped convict whom circumstances have forced to take charge of a church.

The whole embarrassing situation makes him quite unhappy until he meets the sympathetic eye of the girl.

Then the plot thickens and the pulse quickens.
"The Pilgrim," Chaplin's latest feature, in four hilarious reels, is now showing at the Yost theater.

"JUST TONY" OPENS AT WEST END TOMORROW

Tom Mix was once named by a news paper critic "the movie hero who never made a failure," and, ever since, Tom's one ambition has been to live up to the criterion which the newspaper writer had set for him.

That he has been able to achieve this goal is attested by the vast following of fans who acclaim him the greatest screen hero of his type. That Tom deserves the praise he has received is easily demonstrated by his work in the latest Fox production, "Just Tony," which comes to the West End theater tomorrow.

"Just Tony" also features Mix's noted horse, "Tony," and was written by Max Brand as a novel under the original title of "Alcatraz." In this photoplay of romance and friendship and western valor, Tom again rides the edges of a pantomime hell, shoots with the accuracy of supernatural aim, and fights for the love of a beautiful woman in such fashion as to thrill the most blasé of picture-goers.

PAULINE STARKE LEADS CAST OF PRINCESS PHOTOPLAY

Pauline Starke was selected for the heroine of "My Wild Irish Rose," which will be shown at the Princess theater tonight for the last time, because she is the perfect type for the Irish beauty. Her broad white forehead and svelt figure blends the charm which have made the Irish women famous for their captivating physical attractions.

She has the role of Moya, who is in love with Conn, the shaughraun, a role played by Pat O'Malley. The Shaughraun possesses a natural brogue that nothing short of a cheese knife could cut. Lithe and tall, the Celtic features of Pat O'Malley makes him exceptionally well fitted for the role.

"My Wild Irish Rose" is based upon "The Shaughraun," a famous stage success by Dion Boucicault which made a hit in Drury Lane theater in 1875, and at Wallack's theater the same year. In the Drury Lane cast Mr. Boucicault himself played the role of the shaughraun, and later came to New York to play in a New York company. His wife played the role of Moya in the British company, and Jane Burke had the same role in the American company.

URGES CHANGE IN HISTORY TEACHING

WASHINGTON, April 27.—W. G. Cove, president of the English National Union of Teachers, urges a complete change in education in general and especially in the teaching of history. "Attention should be focused," he says, "upon knowledge of the history of civilization, the names and ideas of great thinkers, and the deeds of inventors, the names of military heroes being relegated to obscurity. The arts should be enlisted in the service of peace propaganda, by the production of monuments commemorating and honoring persons who have served the cause of peace."

PARDON TO BE GIVEN 'NOTED' JAIL BREAKER

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 27.—After having escaped from the Alabama state penitentiary three times, Henry East, the "Houdini" of Alabama penal institutions, bids fair to escape for good within a few short weeks.

Upon recommendation of the state pardon board, which has made a thorough investigation of East's case, Governor Brandon is expected to grant a full pardon to East in the near future.

Convicted of burglary and sentenced to 18 years' imprisonment, East contended from the start that he had been wrongfully accused. He frankly told prison officials that he intended to escape at the first opportunity.

A short time afterward he failed to appear for roll call and officials of the prison found that he had kept his word. A notice started in pursuit and he was taken into custody after a strenuous chase.

Returning on a train with a prison transfer agent, East slipped the keys from the agent's pocket and unlocking the cuffs that bound his wrists, jumped from the moving train. He was caught, but a short time later eluded the vigilance of prison officials again.

When he was returned to prison for the third time, East promised authorities that he would never attempt to escape again. After a period of probation he was made a trusty, and has kept his promise.

For several months East, who is an expert mechanic, was sent from one prison camp to another to repair machinery. During a riot in Montgomery county several years ago East carried prison bloodhounds into the disturbed area and captured 13 persons. At other times he has acted as transfer agent and carried other prisoners to prison.

East was granted a parole two years ago by Governor Kilby. Recently the pardon board became interested in his extraordinary case and made recommendations that are expected to result in his full pardon.

BOYES SPRINGS HAS MAY DAY FESTIVAL

SONOMA, Calif., April 27.—A four-day May Day Carnival and fair for all northern California opened today at Boyes Springs, with all the Sonoma valley, the Valley of the Moon, hosts to northern California for the occasion.

The show is a benefit for the Boyes Springs and Valley Volunteer fire department.

DISABLED VETERANS TO MEET MAY 23-25

SACRAMENTO, April 27.—Two thousand of California's wounded and disabled American veterans of the World War will come to Sacramento, for the annual state convention of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, May 23, 24 and 25. E. C. M. Lynch, chairman of the general convention committee, announced here today that the local committee expects 2,000 people here during the week of the convalescence.

The San Francisco delegation will be headed by its newly-formed brass band, consisting entirely of wounded and disabled veterans under placement training with the U. S. Veterans' bureau. State Commander Harry E. Wentworth, and Chapter Commander William J. O'Connor of San Francisco, will be in charge of the big delegation coming from that city. Miss Peggy Conway, talented dramatic artist, and former overseas "cheerup girl," during the World War, is to be a member of the San Francisco convention party.

National Commander C. Hamilton Cook of Buffalo, was a visitor here recently, and commended the convention committee for its elaborate entertainment and convalescence plans. Capt. Cook was elected national commander of the Disabled American Veterans' organization at the San Francisco annual national convention last summer.

FISH COME UP IN ARTESIAN WATERS

DELANO, Kern county, Calif., April 27.—The latest in fish stories and one that will comfort those ardent fishermen who contemplate an underground habitat in the hereafter, is circulating here following the coming to the surface of fish from two to three inches long in the water from an artesian well on the G. L. Holton ranch. The fish are blind. Belief that there is a vast underground lake or river under the San Joaquin valley is strengthened by this finding.

Fishermen are saying they'll probably find excellent rods, fine lines and reels and wonderful fishing waters in the region below—and then discover no hooks are to be had.

CHAPPIE'S HAIR LONGER

LONDON, April 27.—Short hair for men is going the way of bobbed hair for women. London barbers report that their fashionable patrons, who used to feel themselves all weighted down if they went more than a week without a haircut, are now allowing three and four weeks to elapse between trips to the barber's chair.

OLD ORDER CHANGETH

MARION, Ind., April 27.—The Grant County Horse Thief Detective association has turned its attention to automobile and chicken thieves. Rewards of $25 have been offered for the arrest and conviction of chicken or automobile thieves and $25 for the return of stolen automobiles.

SOLDIER - POET TELLS VIEWS ON LEAGUE

(Contributed)

Tom Skehill, the Australian soldier-poet, who spent the past fall and winter "fact hunting" for the Affiliated Bureau in devastated Europe for his lecture tour this summer, wrote most interestingly from Geneva, Switzerland, where he attended the conference. Mr. Skehill is coming to Chautauqua, lecturing on "The New Renaissance of European Civilization." Interesting excerpts from a letter to Louis J. Alber, President of the Affiliated Bureau, under date of September 28, follow:

"And now nature's colors are challenged by other blues and reds, whites and greens and golds—the Union Jack of Old England, the Tri-color of France, the orange and red of Japan, and the gorgeous standards of over forty other nations.

"Politically the League of Nations is not strong; economically it is even weaker; but one must not judge it merely by the material measurements of a world grown old and sick with materialism. This morning I sat in the press gallery listening to men from all over the world discussing and trying to get at the soul of such complex problems as the Near Eastern mess, disarmaments, currency, and so on. As yet very little has been accomplished, much remains to be done—but the outstanding fact is as clear as crystal—serious-minded, peace-loving men from all over the world are getting together for the first time and exchanging viewpoints for the good of all concerned.

"And after having traveled all over the world and talked with leaders of thought in many countries, I see evidences of a new and wonderful desire of mankind's to tear off the rind of cant and hypocrisy and get at the soul of things. In Russia I saw tens of thousands of young people sitting in their overcoats and coughing from the awful cold of unheated rooms in the middle of winter, in order to learn, learn, learn. And at night I saw grown men and women crowding the night classes and writing on slates on account of the shortage of pencils and paper, all to learn more and more, and learning the appreciate in a larger degree the mysteries of life and their relation with the scheme of things. And in Poland I saw the university students sleeping in doorways and railroad stations in Warsaw, so that they could save lodging money and buy books instead. And the German students tell me that from the teachings of their national poets, Goethe, Schiller and Heine, they are stripping the artificial Prussian coloring, studying them as the poets were meant to be studied.

"And I say the league of nations is simply another manifestation of this new movement to 'get at the soul of things.' And so I am coming back to the U. S. A. to preach the gospel of an other renaissance; ay, to crusade, if you like, for that renaissance."

GRAVE DECORATION FUND IS SWELLED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 27.—The American Legion's appeal for an endowment fund to provide for the permanent annual decoration of 32,000 graves of overseas dead has aroused interest in all and acknowledging by publication Day approaches the number of contributions received at Legion national headquarters reaches new heights.

The largest sum in contributions to date has been received from Michigan. Other leading states, in relative order, are Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois and Virginia.

A donation which caused much comment at national headquarters was received from a group of former service men recovering from wounds in United States Hospital No. 60, N. C., Ward 1-3. These men gave their best of the small compensation they receive and dropped it into a tin water can, slit the top. When the can was opened it was found to contain $18 in nickels, dimes and quarters. Accompanying the contribution was the following poem:

"And the thought we send across the wave
As we lie upon our cot
Is plant upon each far-off grave
One sweet forget-me-not."

Many newspapers are co-operating with Legion posts in appealing to the public for contributions. The Indianapolis News is receiving and acknowledging by publication all contributions received. Publications in smaller cities have also assisted in the campaign. J. I. Finney, editor of the Daily Herald of Columbia, Tenn., appealed to readers of his newspaper for funds with considerable success. He wrote Legion national headquarters, as follows:

"If other newspapers would do the same thing, you would soon have the $200,000. I never gave to a cause with quite so much pleasure. It is fine to think that I have helped to make certain the annual decoration of those who sleep forever on foreign fields where they died for me and mine."

whose boy lies "somewhere in France," wrote: "I have a boy over there somewhere. They know just when and how he was killed, but his grave has not been found. Perhaps the poppies will bloom over his grave. I want to help get flowers for the others."

J. C. GIRLS TO BE 'PEANUT BUTCHERS'

At tomorrow's Southern California track meet, at Poly field, girls of the Santa Ana Junior college Y. M. C. A. will sell popcorn balls, home-made candy, soda pop, ice cream and pie.

The girls are making all the arrangements themselves and plan to use the proceeds from the sale to send their delegates to the Astorian summer conference in August.

The arrangements are being handled by the Misses Edith Plavan, Wilma Plavan, Frances Bailey, Persana Deimling, Marjorie Tubbs, Regina Devault, Hazel Kinzel, Jeanette Osborne, Clara Carmichael, Alice Mateer, Jennie Lasby, Mable Whitting and Isabel Anderson. The last three are from faculty members.

More than 200 high school girls signed up yesterday for the Girls' league picnic scheduled at Orange county park next Tuesday.

"Rube day" at the high school, planned for May 4, has been postponed until May 11 because of the forensic contests scheduled on the first date.

June 1 is the date chosen by the art department of the high school for its annual exhibit. Preparations are being made to make this exhibit a credit to the school and the community.

A real stop, look and listen brand of advertising stickers are being placed at the high school today announcing the big Poly circus to be held May 18.

A thorough advertising campaign is planned. The stickers were the first move in this drive.

Tryouts for the high school drama section club's annual play, "Stop Thief," were being conducted today. Miss Minna Mae Lewis, advisor to the club, planned to announce the complete cast tomorrow.

WOMAN OF HUNDRED LOVES IS ARRESTED

PARIS, April 27.—When Jeanne Hortense Waudigny was arrested recently at Lille, the police of twenty cities of France and Belgium breathed easier. The "Woman of a Hundred Loves" was safe behind the bars. Her specialty was posing as a member of an aristocratic family, obtaining huge sums of money from wealthy admirers, for the most part fraudulently, and lavishing it on handsome "lounge lizards" in Paris.

All the "flying squads" of the non-uniformed French police had been on her trail for three years. As the "Baroness de Moranval" she was heard of in Havre, Cherbourg, Nancy, Marseilles, Bordeaux and Riviera resorts. Her beauty and clothes attracted attention everywhere. She had scores of men at her feet. Always it was the same story. A complaint to the local police a day or so after the fascinating woman had vanished and fresh diligence on the part of the sleuths. One of the latter finally landed her by posing as a retired general and pretending to fall into her snares. She met him by appointment in Lille, where he revealed his true character.

Daughter of Miller. Jeanne is the daughter of a miller, and began her career as a worker in a textile plant in Roubaix. She captivated the owner of the plant, M. Moranval, who married her. He was killed in the war and the "merry widow" grabbed the fortune and took the first train for Paris. She lived at the best hotels and passed her nights in the dance halls of Montmartre, spending lavishly and paying the debts of every dancer who happened to strike her fancy. In a year she was penniless. Then she launched out on her career of professional enchantress. A big business man of Rheims was her first victim. His little folly cost him a million. That was at the rate of two hundred thousand francs a day. They had been in Paris five days when she disappeared. Grocery Ensnared. A wholesale grocer at Avignon, in the south of France, contributed a hundred thousand to the siren a couple of months later, when indulgence in her passion for gowns, jewelry and dancing men forced her to take the road again. For weeks thereafter the pockets of the young Avignonnais and Spadards, who filled the dancing parlors were packed with hundred franc notes and champagne flowed in bubbling streams. And so it went on until the "handsome general" as she referred to him, crossed her path. He was sure of her identity, but wanted proof. Ostentatious display of a well-proved bankroll in a Lille hotel proved her downfall. She laid plans to annex it and as soon as she had done so the stranger informed her he was Commissioner Drotot of the Brigade Mobile.

DISCUSS THEORY OF SUN BREAKING UP
WASHINGTON, April 27.—Rev. elation by Dr. W. W. Campbell of Lick observatory of his discovery that the sun is disintegrating has caused widespread comment in scientific circles, it became evident today. Dr. Campbell's discovery, based upon his observation of the sun during total eclipses last year and in 1918, shows that the sun is continuously throwing off fine particles in all directions. Dr. Campbell disclosed the result of his observations in an address before the National Academy of Science.

DIVORCES IN YUCATAN GIVEN ON REQUEST

MERIDA, Yucatan, April 27.—Amendments which will make still easier the easiest divorce law on the American continent is in effect in the Mexican state of Yucatan. The new legislation, ratified by the socialist governor, Felipe Carrillo, provides that a decree of divorce may be demanded and obtained on the simple application before a duly authorized justice of the peace, by both husband and wife, or by only one of them. One month's residence in the state is necessary for foreigners before a divorce application will be heard.

SHERIFF SEEKING MORE COOPERATION

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Cal., April 27.—Sheriff Taylor doesn't think he is getting the right kind of cooperation from citizens and the jail. During a recent jailbreak, in which four prisoners knocked out a wall of the county bastille, several citizens are said to have been interested spectators as the men escaped, not notifying the sheriff, however, nor giving away their knowledge.

Then to cap the climax several cases of rare champagne, gin and other imported liquor seized, disappeared from the jail storeroom. Whether people outside managed to siphon the liquor, or prisoners broke in and drank it, is unknown—but again the sheriff thinks cooperation is sadly lacking. Fact is, there might be as many crooks outside as are in the jail.

WOMEN GATHER IN A UNION MEETING

GARDEN GROVE, April 27.—The two missionary societies and the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church held a joint all-day meeting at the Methodist church Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid had charge of the morning session. A short business meeting was held. At noon a delicious luncheon was served, after which the foreign missionary society held its meeting. Mrs. Houston gave an interesting report on the branch convention held at Anaheim. The Home Missionary meeting followed. It was decided to hold the mite box opening May 18.

Mrs. Ed Schneider then took charge of the program. Several gave interesting talks on the colored people of the South.

Garden Grove Personalia
Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Jackson spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dozier and family accompanied by Mr. Dozier's father, P. E. Dozier, of Orange, visited relatives at Etna this week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hogue entertained in honor of their guest, Miss Opal Robbins, Wednesday evening. The evening was spent playing cards after which the hostess served refreshments. Those present were the Misses Elizabeth Brown and Opal Robbins, Mrs. Anabel Ziegler, Clifton Bryan, Lester Naron and Ralph McMichael.

LINK FOREIGN FILM STAR WITH SCANDAL

PARIS, April 27.—Max Linder, noted French film comedian who formerly played with Essanay at Chicago, has eloped. A general alarm was sent out a week ago, but after strenuous efforts by the police of all European capitals the comedian has not been found.

Acting under order from the highest authorities in France, the police have been surrounding the affair with the most complete secrecy. The girl is said to belong to an excellent family, and is very young and pretty.

The comedian's offense constitutes a crime against the laws of France, but the utmost efforts are being made by secret police to keep the kidnapping dark, on account of the possible ruin socially of the girl.

It was impossible for M. Linder to have married the girl because of her youth, which necessitates the parents' consent under all European laws.

S. P. VACATION RATES IN EFFECT

Vacation season was officially opened today with the inauguration of reduced local summer excursion fares by the Southern Pacific company. The round trip rates during the vacation season will be but very little higher than the regular one way fare.

The rates will be in effect to regularly designated resort points, which include Los Angeles and San Francisco as well as the many mountain and seaside playgrounds of the Pacific coast. The list of points to which season and fifteen-day rates are granted include, for example, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Crater Lake, Santa Barbara, Santa Cruz, Lake Tahoe, Klamath Falls, Shasta Springs and Yosemite. Season tickets will be sold to Portland and Seattle.

Season tickets will be on sale daily from today to September 30 inclusive and will be limited to three months from date of sale, not to exceed October 31. Stopovers will be granted on season tickets. Fifteen-day tickets will be on sale Fridays and Saturdays and will be limited to 15 days from date of sale. The going trip on fifteen-day ticket must commence on the Friday or Saturday for which the ticket is sold. The fifteen-day rate is lower still than the season rate and is particularly suited to the needs of the great majority of vacation travelers, whose outings are limited to two weeks.

As an example of the large reductions under the summer excursion rates, the one way fare from Los Angeles to San Francisco or vice versa is $17.04, while the season round trip ticket will only cost $22.50 and the fifteen-day ticket will cost only $19.00.

LODGE MEETS
Santa Ana Lodge No. 20, Fraternal Brotherhood, meeting here last night, initiated two new members, Mrs. J. A. Rindel, and Miss Elisa Reuter. Manager Francis Barile said he believed that fifty members would be procured by the end of the membership drive, May 31. Refreshments of ice cream were served by the committee, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Trickey and Mrs. Daisy Turner.

Coupons are Ready

From now on, as long as this great offer lasts, a Bible Coupon is being printed in these columns daily. Three of those coupons will enable the holder to take advantage of our offer explained therein. The idea is to encourage Bible reading in order to overcome the world's unrest—a movement which is being sponsored by leading newspapers of this country. Make your selection early tomorrow—style A as shown in the accompanying illustration; or style B, which is less elaborately bound but just as complete and durable.

Wonderful Lessons in the Bible's English for Writers and Speakers

Shakespeare was master of nearly twenty thousand words. Milton of about thirteen thousand. But the whole King James Version of the Bible contains not over six thousand words; not a half of Milton's, not a third of Shakespeare's vocabulary.

Short words are always strong words; they explode like bullets. Do you know that the average word in the English Bible, including even the proper names, is composed of less than five letters? Leave out the proper names and the average word wouldn't have even four letters. In the beloved 23rd Psalm there are 119 words; 95 are words of one syllable. In the Sermon on the Mount more than 80 per cent are words of one syllable. In the Ten Commandments, on which are based all the laws of all the world, there are 319 words; 259 are words of one syllable; and only 60 of two and more syllables. In Lincoln's Address at Gettysburg, perhaps the greatest in the world, there are 266 words. Of these, 194 words are of one syllable; 53 of two syllables; and only 19 of three or more syllables.

There is food for thought in these figures. What an improvement in our writers and speakers, if, like Lincoln, they would only give study to the English of the Bible.

PRISONERS ESCAPE

MINNEAPOLIS, April 27.—Overpowering and disarming their guard, tying him hand and foot and locking him in a cupboard, three Fort Snelling prisoners escaped. The fugitives are W. G. Quentin, T. T. Nachstine and R. G. Baker, all of whom were serving terms for desertion, Lieutenant R. R. Lowden notified police.

Private Clem Todd, on guard, said he was rushed by Baker, who seized his rifle. Quentin and Nachstine joined the attack, bound him and threw him in a cupboard. After several minutes Todd freed himself and gave the alarm.

ELDERLY STUDENT
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., April 27.—John Kay, aged 60, who has been a factory worker almost all his life, believes it is never too late to learn. Kay is in his fourth year of training in the South High night school, and he says he is earnest about getting an education. He began attending night school when he wanted to learn something about wood-working. He learned it in one year and then became interested in other classes.

Castor-oil is considered the sweetest perfume in the world by some African natives.

DESERT ISLAND ADVENTURE IS SUIT CAUSE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—

This desert isle stuff novelists write about and that is pictured so often in the movies is the utter bunk, the snake's hips—it just ain't a man who knows.

Charles Sellow, who has filed suit for $30,500 damages against a company, which he claims let him be shipwrecked a la Robinson Crusoe.

Perhaps it was the locale Sellow chose for his shipwreck party that was wrong. It was one of the bleak barren islets in the Aleutian chain off Alaska. Instead of having the proverbial south sea island belle for companionship, Sellow says he came to on the beach and found a savage, lean old wolf making savagely hungry amorous advances towards him.

Sellow's complaint filed in superior court here sets forth that he sailed for Alaska on the schooner Maxwena in April, 1922. Putting off from the boat in a dory in May, after they reached Alaskan waters, Sellow says a big wave wrecked the dory, knocked him unconscious and he came to on the above mentioned island. He claims in his suit the dory was unsafe. He wants damages for medical services, physical shock and his inability to work.

PRISONER ESCAPES
PIERCE, Neb., April 25.—Charles Lewis, who was arrested at Plainview on a charge of check forging and sentenced to from one to three years in the state penitentiary, dug his way through an eighteen-inch wall of the county jail and made good his escape.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, April 27.—The Scout boys are looking forward to a jolly trip next Tuesday night when the Scout Master expects to take them to Anaheim Landing, grunion fishing.

The committee appointed to examine the contest papers of the Eighth grade students on the History of California has completed the work and is ready to announce the winners at the next meeting of the Woman's club, May 3.

Real estate is moving briskly here. C. E. Ritter reports the sale of two houses, which are nearing completion on Court street, a five room bungalow to Mr. Gay, and a six room stucco residence to Peter Eason of Fullerton. He has also sold two lots on Court street, one to Mr. Jones and one to Richard Nelson. Mr. Peddicord of Fullerton has purchased a house from Mrs. C. E. Ritter in the Ritter tract.

Mrs. Hettie Allen has opened up a new subdivision in the northwest part of town, known as the Crater tract. The following sales have been made to date: Mrs. C. E. Ingraham of Anaheim, lot, $650; E. C. Carr of Long Beach, lot, $650 (Mr. Carr has begun building); J. W. Kibler, a half acre, $1200; J. K. Doyle, on Park street, sold his home to a Fullerton man and Mr. Doyle has bought and moved to the Ledford property on the same street.

It was thought best to extend the clean-up for a week and the following notices are being distributed by the Boy Scouts: "Buena Park Clean Up Week from May 1 to May 5. The Boy Scouts will have charge of Clean-up Week and ask every one to help a good thing along. Every one is asked to clean up all weeds and rubbish from their lots and parking. Help clean up the town. By order of County Board of Health. Committee, Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce."

Mrs. L. J. Robeson, Mrs. W. B. Shaw and Mrs. O. R. Dano, were shopping in Los Angeles Thursday.

Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Hunt visited in Fullerton, Thursday.

R. H. Meyer on East Orange-

Star Athletes Await Track Classic Here

IMAN, MEXICO TO CLASH AGAIN HERE

Popular Middleweights Are Matched for Main Event Next Wednesday

DELHI CARD
Main Event—Kid Mexico vs. Jack Iman, 158 pounds.
Semi-final—Joe Grimm vs. "Pinky" Mason, 148 pounds.
Preliminaries—Toby Montoya vs. Babe Colima, 118 pounds.
Danny Herrera vs. Willie Jackson, 118 pounds.
Kid Herman vs. Bennie Diaz, 118 pounds.
Spike Brown vs. Joe Burns, 138 pounds.

With the question still apparently unsettled as to which is the better with the padded gloves, Kid Mexico, veteran Huntington Beach middleweight, and Jack Iman, Santa Ana 158-pounder, will clash in the main event at the Delhi arena again next Wednesday night. Promoter Boyd Ellis announced today.

When the two milled to a draw here three weeks ago, the fans agreed that Iman showed enough improvement in his work to warrant yet another shot to get revenge for the two rough nights that he took from Mexico last summer. The Santa Ana boy is in great shape and will round out his work from now until Wednesday at Tommy McFarland's Seal Beach gymnasium.

Will Resume Training
Mexico wired Ellis today that he will resume training immediately and that he will be in first class condition for the Iman run-in. The beach battler was plainly out of shape three weeks ago and had the fight gone another round it is probable that Iman would have stopped him with the terrific body bombardment that he unleashed.

The fans will get a chance to see the real "Pinky" Mason of Seattle in action in the semi-windup tilt. It seems that the carrot-topped boy who showed so little against Joe Grimm on the opening Delhi bill this season was not Mason, but Joe Nolan. The real Mason has promised to make up for the rather listless bout staged by Nolan. Grimm is a willing worker and should give Mason all of the mixing he craves.

Montoya Meets Colima
Toby Montoya, getting better and better, with every bout, will run into a tough one in Babe Colima, a speedy Los Angeles bantamweight. Babe is no relation to Bert Colima but those who have seen him go claim he

Coaches Barred From Field Tomorrow At All-Southern Meet

There will be no coaches on Poly field tomorrow afternoon during the Southern California Interscholastic meet. To prevent the two score of more mentors from cavorting around the track, gnashing their teeth and pulling at their hair in public view during the staging of various events, the C. I. F. ruled that no coaches be permitted on the field.

Ray Adkinson and "Spud" Morrison, local charge d'affaires, cut away a small part of the grandstand facing directly on the track. Here the coaches will be encased until the final races has been run.

SENIOR 'Y' INDOOR LEAGUE UNDER WAY

The D. D. M. C. and T. N. T. teams today were off to a good start in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. Senior indoor baseball league following two games at the local athletic field last night.

The D. D. M. C. aggregation, minus one player, managed to defeat the Hotentots crew, 20 to 16, while the T. N. T.'s threw a bomb under the Highbinders for a 19 to 10 victory.

T. P. McKee, community 'Y' secretary, announced that double headers will be played hereafter on Tuesday and Thursday nights. The following men played:

Hotentots—Turner, Moon, Zaisler, Jewell, Davis, Owens, Moody, Brown and O'Brien. D. D. M. C.—Spencer, Fernandez, Sylvester, Ludwig, Lacy, Berkland, Randall and Leslie. T. N. T.—Cal Clark, M. Clark, Marshall, Wood, Hargin, Cox and Culver. Highbinders—McDermott, Parks, Jewell, Preble, Ault, Doxon and Hurd.

will give Montoya a busy evening.

Willie Jackson, well remembered by local fans, will make his first appearance here this year in the next fray when he hooks up with Danny Herrera, the El Modena 118-pounder. Jackson lost a bout at Vernon the other night to Joe Garcia but the fans called it the best fight of the card.

Kid Herman, Herrera's brother, is matched with Bennie Diaz in the next fracas. Spike Brown and Joe Burns, two new ones, tangle in the curtain raiser.

LOCAL SPORT FOLLOWERS WARNED TO BE AT POLY FIELD EARLY FOR TRACK TILT

Come Early.

That was the final warning to Santa Ana and Orange county sport followers by local authorities today as indications pointed to a tremendous crowd in attendance at the All-Southern track meet at Poly field tomorrow afternoon.

The first track event, the half-mile run, will begin promptly at 1:30 o'clock. At the same time the high jump, the pole vault, the shot put and the discus throw will get under way. As soon as any field event is finished the broad jump will be started.

"We have every assurance," Ray Adkinson, Santa Ana high school track coach, said, "that the crowd from the Los Angeles schools, Pasadena, Hollywood and Long Beach will be large enough to fill our bleachers. This crowd will begin arriving here early."

Wants Even Break.
"This is the first time that Orange county ever has had the All-Southern classic and we want to give sport followers in this section an even break for the best seats."

"I am of the opinion that Orange county fans will not make a mistake if they are at the field by 1 o'clock or even earlier."

Although student tickets have been on sale at the Southern California high school during the past week, general admission tickets may be obtained only at the gate. These will cost fifty cents. Seats will go on the "first come, first served" plan.

The Santa Ana bleachers will seat approximately 4000 persons. Estimations by C. I. F. officials have been that fully that number will come here from Los Angeles alone.

At least 1000 Santa Anans are expected to attend the meet.

Beach Town Track Mad.
Coach Ray Walker of Huntington Beach is authority for the statement that the little oil city will send a delegation of close to 500 to lend their support to the crack beach tracksters who are expected to make a great fight for the championship.

Fullerton is track-mad and will move here almost en masse, it was reported.

Many are expected to trek to Santa Ana from points outside the Los Angeles city area. Large delegations are looked for from Pomona, Ontario, San Bernardino, San Diego, Covina, Compton and from north of Los Angeles.

The track events will be run in the following order: 880, 100, 440, 120 yard hurdles, 220, 220 yard low hurdles, mile and the relay.

Two special events will be staged in between races.

The mile relay teams of the Occidental and Pomona colleges will hook up in one race. Johnny Spangler, former Santa Ana high school star, will probably run the first lap for the Tiger quartette.

Kelly Meets Murray.
Two of California's most famous hurdlers of the past, Fred Kelly, winner of the high sticks at the 1912 Olympic Games, and Fred Murray, former Stanford star and still holder of the National Intercollegiate meet record for the low barriers, will step over a flight of 70 yard high hurdles.

At the Redlands A. A. U. meet a week ago the pair finished in a dead heat in the speedy time of 9 seconds flat. Although neither has been in competition for several years, Kelly and Murray are in splendid condition and capable of giving any hurdler in the world a chase right now. It will be the first time either has run on the new Santa Ana track.

The preliminaries Wednesday reduced the field in the track events to the following men:

Here Are Entries.

100 yard dash—Smith, San Fernando; Pollack, Pasadena; Woodward, Jefferson; Lee, Franklin; Green, Chaffey; Fear, Bishop; Hurlic, Pasadena; Clein, Venice; Castle, Riverside, and Pennington, San Fernando.

440 yard dash—Nash, Huntington Beach; C. Allee, Fullerton; R. Allee, Fullerton; Smith, Hollywood; Howe, Harvard Military academy; Gaudet, Lincoln; Baxter, Lincoln; Weakley, Orange; Thompson, Los Angeles; Campbell, Hollywood; Manual Arts, and Eddinger, Pomona.

Two H. B. Hurdles.
120 yard high hurdles—Nichols, Huntington Beach; Bickmore, Huntington Beach; Haggard, Ingleswood; Requa, Manual Arts; Reynolds, Los Angeles; Cromwell, Lincoln; Shaver, Covina; Newell, Riverside, and Wasterburger, Lincoln.

220 yard dash—Woodward, Jefferson; Smith, San Fernando; Stroschein, Santa Ana; Pollack, Pasadena; Hamilton, Chaffey; Haygood, Downey; Lee, Franklin; Castle, Riverside; Clein, Venice, and Fear, Bishop.

220 yard low hurdles—Gardner, Santa Ana; Burgard, Hollywood; Hill, Long Beach; Hassler, Pasadena; Hollands, Monrovia; Winfield, Lincoln; Wasterburger, Lincoln; Foster, Ingleswood, and Requa, Manual Arts.

Relay—Santa Ana, Pasadena, San Bernardino, Venice, Chaffey, Hollywood, Los Angeles, Lincoln and Manual Arts.

3000 ATHLETES IN PENN DELAY CLASSIC

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—

Three thousand athletes from more than 500 schools and colleges assumed the role of the traditional robin and officially opened the spring season when they gathered here today for the twenty-ninth annual Penn relay carnival.

From clear skies, the sun broke out this morning and promised almost ideal conditions for the athletes who are to take part in the thirty-two events on the opening day schedule.

The Penn relays always have some kind of feature and the color is added this year by the presence of the Oxford university team from England, which is to compete in the spring medley relay and the two mile international championship.

Bill Stevenson, former Princeton star and one time national quarter mile champion, is one of the headliners of the English team. He is to run the quarter in the medley relay.

DRAKE RELAYS OPEN WITH 1000 ENTRIES

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 27.—

The Drake relays open here today with 1,000 athletes from all parts of the country participating.

Eighteen events, beginning with the 100 yard dash preliminaries for universities, are on this afternoon's program.

INDIANS TOP LEAGUE AS NEW YORK LOSES

NEW YORK, April 27.—Change in the leadership of the American league was the most important result of yesterday's major league games.

The Cleveland Indians beat the White Sox and assumed the lead, while the Yankees dropped to second place by losing to the Red Sox.

EQUIL RIGHTS
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 27.—A bill in state legislature gives women and men equal representation on party central committees. Two from each district are provided, one male and one female.

Poly Distance Star Gets Real Test In Meet Tomorrow

BOB VAWTER.

Ray Adkinson's classy distance runner, will face a speedy field in the half mile and the mile grinds at Poly field tomorrow afternoon. Vawter has shown exceptional form this year and local fans will watch him with keen interest. Vawter's best race is the half. He stepped this distance in 2:04 in the county meet.

JUNIOR HIGH TEAM WALLOPS NEWPORT

Heavy-Hitting Locals Add Another Game to Long Victory String

The Santa Ana junior high school baseball squad journeyed to Newport and came home with the long end of a 12-5 score yesterday afternoon.

Coach Archer's hopefuls, having won every game so far this season, practice, exhibition, or league, made themselves still more dangerous contenders for the Gram-School league championship by this additional victory.

The team continued its heavy hitting throughout the game, piling up a large lead early and letting down near the end.

The Newport coach hindered a massacre by coming in and pitching at the beginning of the fourth frame. Although he struck out nine men in four innings his arm tired near the last and he was nicked for several runs.

Clifford "Red" Miller played both pitcher and catcher and did nearly everything except make errors.

In The Big Leagues

With two down in the eighth inning, the Giants hopped on Babe Marquard and scored six runs, beating the Braves 7 to 3. Neftali Feliz hit a home run.

Burns' single in the ninth scored Menosky with the run that gave the fourth inning off Couch were the Yanks.

Goslin's single in the seventh scored Evans with the run that enabled the Senators to beat the Athletics 2 to 1.

The Robins had a field day off three Philadelphia pitchers and won 14 to 4.

Three hits and a base on balls in the first inning off Faber gave the Indians two runs and they beat the White Sox, 3 to 0.

Two doubles and four singles in the fourth inning off Couch were turned into six runs by the Cards and they won easily over the Reds, 8 to 4.

The local relay team, composed of Gardner in the first lap, Thoele in the second, Rabe in the third and Stroschein in the final lap,

POLY FIELD WILL LURE HUNDREDS

Hollywood, Beach Teams to Battle for First Place Tomorrow, Belief

BY EDDIE WEST

With the track in lightning fast condition, with the weather man predicting a clear, warm day, and with indications that a sport throng of fully 5,000 persons will crowd in the stands, 150 bronzed athletes, the pick of the Southland's youth, tonight were restlessly awaiting the morning when at 1:30 p. m. the annual Southern California Track and Field meet will begin at the Santa Ana high school oval.

That records of ancient standing will be shattered appeared imminent. Seidom, if ever, in the history of the famed "All-Southern" has such an array of talent been grouped in one meet.

That upsets will shake the best prepared dope sheets seemed virtually certain. Upsets and surprises usually come. Surely they will tomorrow.

Who will win?

Hollywood or H. B.? Hollywood or Huntington Beach. Perhaps Pasadena. Other schools have excellent chances. The outsider, too, must be reckoned with. But when the complicated scores are footed certainly it will be the best trained, the best prepared and the most versatile team that will be accorded the championship. It will have to be able to stand the strain.

Santa Ana is ready to greet the vast throng that will flock here from every point in Southern California.

The Poly track, thanks to the untiring efforts of Coaches "Spud" Morrison and Ray Adkinson is in perfect condition. It marks "do not go by the boards" if it will be through no fault of the cinder path.

The oval was being given its final preparation this afternoon. Student workmen were rolling the course. Lanes were being marked. Part of the track was getting a light sprinkling.

Construct Special Pits
Special high jumping, broad jumping and pole vaulting pits have been constructed. Special standards will be used for the high jump and the pole vault. The battle-scarred football field will decide the winners in the shot put and the discus throw.

The wise ones have declared that the classic will be a struggle between the great teams representing the Huntington Beach and Hollywood high schools.

Huntington Beach won the title last year. It has a powerful squad, men capable of placing in any high school meet in the country. But the squad is small and much depends on the individual efforts of this small group. Hollywood has more men and obviously more chances to annex points here and there to add to its total. On paper, it looks like almost an even break with the odds slightly favoring the movie city aggregation.

Dope Against Locals
Ray Adkinson's Santa Ana team, strong but lacking in numbers, can hardly be expected to make a fight for the first honors.

Arnold Stroschein, the fleet short distance runner, is exceptionally fast but he will be pitted against a great field of high school sprinters, perhaps the greatest that has ever been assembled at a high school meet.

If Stroschein can break into the point column against such men as Smith of San Fernando, who won the 220 at the National Intercollegiate at Chicago last year, Eddie Pollack, the Pasadena captain, and his teammate, Hurlic Woodward, the dusky Jefferson star, and Lee of Franklin, then he must indeed be recognized as a great sprinter.

Bob Vawter, the tall Poly long distance man, should finish close to the front in the half mile and possibly close in the mile run. He will have some keen competition for Hanson of Manual Arts, Dave Dungan in the discus, Lord Dungan in the high jump may spring the surprises that always come in a big meet.

The local relay team, composed of Gardner in the first lap, Thoele in the second, Rabe in the third and Stroschein in the final lap,

Nichols May Set Record
Nichols should have no difficulty in breaking the tape in the 120 yard high hurdles and it would not be surprising if Bickmore is right on his heels for a second. Furthermore, Nichols may smash his own All-Southern record of 16 seconds flat for the distance. He ran 15 7-10 seconds in the Orange county meet a month ago.

Nash and Cliff Allee, the sensational Fullerton boy, are doped to furnish a thousand thrills during the quarter-mile race. And a few of the outside stars may help them shatter some records.

LOCAL CHURCH TEAM READY TO MEET ALL COMERS ON DIAMOND

The First Congregational church indoor baseball team is ready to meet all comers.

Following their 38 to 7 victory over the local post office crew the other night at the Y. M. C. A. athletic field, Franklin Nicky, manager of the Congregationalists, today issued a challenge to any inferior team in the city.

"We'll take 'em all on," Nicky stated. "We believe we have the strongest aggregation in Santa Ana and are ready to prove it."

Nicky said team managers should communicate with him at 519 North Bush street or by phoning 929 M.

JUNIORS WILL GIVE COMEDY TONIGHT

ORANGE, April 27.—Final preparations were being made today for the Junior college play "Clarence," which is to be presented tomorrow night in the auditorium.

Chosen from a field of the entire third year class, the cast is an exceptional one and promises to give a splendid entertainment.

The proceeds of the play are to be devoted to the annual junior-senior banquet which occurs early in June. The class treasury already shows a sum of over $90, which was realized from the sale of Chautauqua tickets of which the junior class had complete charge.

The cast for "Clarence" is as follows:

Clarence, Cecil Cox; Violet Piney, Edith Lush; Cora Wheeler, Eva Spencer; Bobby Wheeler, Charles Jackson; Mrs. Wheeler, Clara Condon; Mr. Wheeler, Ben Jones; Mr. Stein, Kellar Watson; Della, Elizabeth Haseman; Butler, Leonard Field.

Friends are deeply grieved to learn of her passing and anxiously await further word as to Mrs. Wilson's condition.

Mrs. L. Moldal and niece, Miss Thelma Truscott, spent Tuesday at Anaheim with Mrs. Edna Bentley.

Work is under way on the first tank to be installed on the new Petroleum Oil company's tank farm and Wintersburg residents now spend all their waking hours listening to the "rat-a-tat" of the riveting machine on the steel. Ten tanks are to be put in now it is understood.

Hokata Tashuma, the eldest son of R. A. Tashuma, Japanese store proprietor of Wintersburg, was injured Tuesday evening when he jumped from a moving machine. His head is pretty badly cut but the attending physician does not think the injury serious.

Mr. Chism was driving near the Horace Moore home when something went wrong with his machine. ## ENTERTAIN WOMEN OF SPANISH CLASS

PLACENTIA, April 27.—The members of the Mothers' club entertained the members of Mrs. Mackey's class of Spanish women Wednesday afternoon in the Presbyterian church parlors.

The guests arrived at 2:30 o'clock and the afternoon was spent in playing games. At 4:30 o'clock a delicious luncheon was served on beautifully appointed tables, where covers were laid for about forty persons.

The decorations were Cecil Bruner roses and smilax. Mrs. C. E. Barnett has returned to her home at Toronto, Canada, after spending a few weeks with her father, W. W. Blackmer, Kraemer avenue.

AMERICANIZATION WORK PROGRESSING

PLACENTIA, April 27.—Evening strollers along Santa Fe avenue are frequently tempted to idle a while in front of the old Clay restaurant. This restaurant has been selected by the Placentia Round Table club as a good place to conduct an Americanization school.

Here has been established a flourishing school for all the Mexican adults in this district.

In the early evening, passersby are frequently moved to mirth when they hear loud choruses of men's voices reciting, with Spanish accent, "The carpenter goes to the tool box. He takes out a hammer. He takes out some nails. He drives a nail into a board. He drives another nail into a board," etc. Some interested evening loiterers have come inside the restaurant, where visitors are always welcome. They have watched with pleasure the earnest efforts of these fifty Mexican men to acquire the English language. The class recites its lesson over and over again in concert and individually, demonstrating every action described.

Another group of the younger fellows, more proficient in the use of English, assemble in the basement of the church.

Each morning some twelve women come to the restaurant to study English. These women are also being taught to sew. The Better Mothers' club has kindly donated some clever models for small children's clothes.

Mrs. John Tuffree, chairman of the Americanization committee of the W. C. T. U. gives one afternoon every week to helping these women to make simple layettes.

The citrus associations are helping to pay the rent of this school and the women's clubs of Placentia are heartily supporting the cause of Americanization.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, April 27.—Extensive preparations for the care of large herds of dairy cows are under way at both the J. J. Stoves and James Kerr ranches east of town this week.

Both Stoves and Kerr have leased to Portuguese dairymen and are retiring from ranch life. At the Stoves ranch a barn of 100 cows capacity is under construction. Four rows of stanchions will run the length of the barn and two cement drives pass through between them. The dairymen are ranching the place now but will not bring in any stock until the dairy barn and milk house are fully completed.

An addition is being added by Kerr to his practically new dairy barn. The addition will contain eighteen stanchions. A great deal of cement work is being put in also about the barns and yards. Fifty cows are now on the ranch and the dairymen propose to add to their herd as soon as the building operations are completed.

Mrs. Sanders and son Charles Sanders motored to Santa Ana Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Sanders' sister, Mrs. Cook and family.

Albert Gill is driving a new car. Charles Stone planted seven acres to corn for A. J. Stiffler this week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. McCall had as visitors at their home Sunday, Mr. McCall's cousin, Roy Gray, wife and son of Los Angeles. Ralph Murdoch was in Los Angeles Sunday and remained over Monday to see after property interests there.

A Ford coupe and a Dodge car collided a few hundred yards north of the Huntington Beach boulevard Tuesday morning. The coupe turned several somersaults and both cars were injured but miraculously none of the occupants were hurt.

Mr. Arnette's mother, who makes her home with him and his family is now in Los Angeles taking treatments at a hospital. For several years Mr. Arnette has been an invalid and almost helpless. A dislocation of a vertebra has been located by physicians and in the short time she has been under their care the dropsical affection which she has had has disappeared and the doctors say she will be walking in three weeks time.

Wednesday was the regular "fourth Wednesday" meeting day for the "Happy Workers" society of Westminster and quite a number motored over to Smeltzer where a pleasant day was spent at the home of one of the members.

BEST REVEALED AS HIGH PROSPERITY

Keen interest was shown here today when the March report of John Perrin, chairman of the board and Federal Reserve agent, Twelfth Federal Reserve district, was received, showing prosperity in virtually all lines and revealing that building permits broke all records.

Petroleum production, the report said, established a new high mark, labor was fully employed, wages advanced, virtually all lumber mills were in operation, the output of mines increased and prices of the principal metals produced, except silver, advanced.

Excerpts from Perrin's report follow: "Substantial increases in rates of pay to labor in the lumbering, mining and metal trades industries were announced during March. Farmers in many sections are having difficulty in securing adequate help for spring planting and culture work, because of the relatively low wages paid agricultural laborers."

Lumber production during March was estimated to be 10 per cent above normal for that month. The volume of orders received and shipments made continued greater than production.

"Petroleum production in California at 632,522 barrels per day established another record during March and storage stocks, already large, were increased. Prices paid for crude oil in Southern California fields were reduced during the month from one to forty-one cents per barrel, according to the gravity of the oil."

"Building permits issued during March were greater both in number and value than in any previous month of which there is a record. There were 13,358 permits authorizing construction valued at $40,203,440 issued in twenty reporting cities."

Retail Trade Gains. "Retail trade at the department stores during March, exceeding in value that of a year ago by approximately 20 per cent, was being carried on with stocks only slightly larger than those then held. The total activity of business in the district, as indicated by debits to individual accounts at banks in twenty-one cities, was 25.8 per cent greater than one year ago, the largest yearly comparison reported since 1920."

"The business prosperity reflected in the foregoing comparisons has resulted in a steadily expanding volume of bank credit in the district. Total loans, discounts and investments of sixty-six reporting member banks, located in the principal cities of the district, increased from $1,289,000,000 on March 7, 1922, to $1,340,000,000 on April 11, 1923."

However, the total deposits of these banks today are 9.1 per cent of their total loans and investments, as compared with 88.2 per cent at the peak of the credit expansion in 1920."

WILLIAM AND WIFE READ SAME BOOKS

DOORN, April 27.—"Kaiserin" Hermine and her husband, Wilhelm, have identical literary tastes. Neither cares for novels. Both devour all the works on politics and history they can lay their hands on.

Hermine, especially, is a great reader. She has given up so-called "light reading" since her advent in Doorn, spending hours in the company of the former emperor, delving into books on politics and history, especially everything dealing with the ex-kaiser's reign and the World War.

The Crown Prince, on the other hand, like Roosevelt and Wilson, reads all the detective stories he can have shipped him to his out-of-the-way exile at Wieringen.

CHURCH KING'S FUNERAL. MUNICH, April 27.—Funerals are being collected in Democratic Bavaria for a memorial chapel to the last Bavarian king Ludwig and his wife, Maria Theresia. The radical press puts out that the mayors of the towns of Bavaria have been called upon to organize these funds. The little church is to be built in Wittenwarth and is a departure from past memorials in Bavaria, all previous rulers having been honored with statues of their royal selves in various prominent places—especially in Munich.

Kildare turned to Mercedes. As Blaze did so, Esteban managed to get to his feet by clutching a bed-post. Mercedes came in, jettisoned and caught the boy as he tottered.

Esteban struggled to free himself from Mercedes' arms. "Don't touch me!" he cried. "Damn the Double A!"

The boy was no match for Mercedes' strength. Against his will he was forced down to the bed. "For the love of Pete! What's the matter with that happy-go-lucky post-damned?"

"Matter?" My father's been killed! Killed! Some one in this outfit did it, too!"

"You don't think we would do a rotten thing like that, do you?" Blaze asked sharply.

"Please," Mercedes begged. "Don't make another scene."

"Anything to get away," replied Esteban.

"When I drove up with the rig, Akkin called me in and told me I should go. If you'll give me a hand, I'll get started."

CHAPTER XVI. Passing of Old Ironides. THE day of Jose's funeral dawned bright and clear. Little dust-clouds rose in a hundred places from the desert roads, as the widely scattered people from the Little North country and the valleys north of the Humboldt gathered to do honor to their murdered leader.

Quite in contrast with them was the tall, thin man hunched over the wheel of an outlandish contraption that he called an automobile. But the alleged automobile, for all its lack of paint and its unbecoming vitals, was like its owner, thoroughly efficient. The man was Brann, coming all the way from Winnemucca.

WHISPERING SAGE EXPECT TO BE REVEALED

BY HARRY SINCLAIR DRAGO AND JOSEPH NOEL. COPYRIGHT, 1923 BY N.S.A. SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY. Esteban, son of Jose Arrascada, while riding with a party in an attack on the Double A ranch, is seriously wounded and carried to the home of his enemy, Dick Acklin. Jose, while searching for his son, is shot and killed from ambush. Acklin and Buck Bodine have stolen the water supply from the Basques of Paradise Valley. Mercedes, daughter of Jose, accuses Acklin of the murder of her father. Acklin denies the charge.

NOW GO ON WITH STORY. ACKLIN came down and went to his office. Through the open window Mercedes called to Melody and Blaze. "Will you tell the Senator," she said, "that I am going to take my brother with me now?"

Melody was back in a minute. "The Big Boss says he can't be taken out," he reported in a crest-fallen manner.

Esteban's eyes flashed. Some of Mercedes' old fire came back to her. "What has he to do with it?" she demanded. "I take him when I want to! I will tell him so!"

A hard look came into the eyes of the feudal lord. "You can take him! Don't you know that if I turned him over to the sheriff, he would go to the pen for last night's work?"

"I am not afraid!" Her voice was defiant. "If my brother goes to jail, you go, too. Not to jail, Senator, to the hangman!"

"What are you getting at?" Acklin cried.

"You know very well what I am getting at, you beast! My father was killed last night; shot dead; while he was riding here!"

Acklin's face blanched. "I had nothing to do with it, do you hear?" His voice rose with a nasty threat. "I don't shoot from ambush."

The sound of their loud talking had reached Melody, who had come downstairs on an alleged errand. Mercedes saw him. "Senior Acklin has changed his mind," she stated. "Will you get my brother ready?"

Melody looked at the Big Boss for confirmation of this order. He nodded his head and, turning to his own quarters, slammed the door behind him.

Blaze was sitting on the edge of Esteban's bed when Melody and Mercedes returned. Melody's smile had taken its accustomed place. Blaze was quick to notice the change in him.

"The kid's gone home all right," the sorrel-topped one informed him. Esteban, forgetting his nurse's orders, sat up in bed. "Maybe you could dress him," Melody went on to Blaze. "I'll go down and see about a rise then."

So while Mercedes went to the window, Blaze got her brother ready for the trip home. "I ought to ask your forgiveness," Esteban said sincerely. "You?" Mercedes caught a hint of mystery in her brother's voice. She looked at Blaze. He got to his feet.

"Betty forget it," he mumbled. "Don't amount to anything." Blaze stuck his head out of the window, trying to locate Melody, as Esteban told his sister what had happened at the Chimney.

"You tried to kill him! He did not shoot back! Madre de Dios!" she cried. "And I called him a spy!"

"That's all right, little girl. You folks don't owe me anything. You were pretty excited when I met you this morning—your father and—"

"Father?" Esteban's face went white. Blaze could have cut off his tongue for his slip.

"What's that about father?" the boy demanded again. "Has he been hurt—killed? Did somebody get him?" His voice rose to a scream as he tried to get to his feet.

With a cry, Mercedes' head dropped to the edge of the bed. In spite of Kildare's pleading, she broke down and wept bitterly. A shadow crossed the boy's face. He understood.

Kildare turned to Mercedes. As Blaze did so, Esteban managed to get to his feet by clutching a bed-post. Mercedes came in, jettisoned and caught the boy as he tottered.

Esteban struggled to free himself from Mercedes' arms. "Don't touch me!" he cried. "Damn the Double A!"

The boy was no match for Mercedes' strength. Against his will he was forced down to the bed. "For the love of Pete! What's the matter with that happy-go-lucky post-damned?"

"Please," Mercedes begged. "Don't make another scene."

"Anything to get away," replied Esteban.

"When I drove up with the rig, Akkin called me in and told me I should go. If you'll give me a hand, I'll get started."

CHAPTER XVI. Passing of Old Ironides. THE day of Jose's funeral dawned bright and clear. Little dust-clouds rose in a hundred places from the desert roads, as the widely scattered people from the Little North country and the valleys north of the Humboldt gathered to do honor to their murdered leader.

Quite in contrast with them was the tall, thin man hunched over the wheel of an outlandish contraption that he called an automobile. But the alleged automobile, for all its lack of paint and its unbecoming vitals, was like its owner, thoroughly efficient. The man was Brann, coming all the way from Winnemucca.

Acklin was proving, at that moment, his keen interest in Jose's passing. He was in his office, and Morrow and Kildare were with him. The latter's face wore a sullen look.

Acklin was saying: "People in general don't know you, Kildare. That's why I want you to go. You can drop in at the church, or mix in with the crowd at the cemetery."

Blaze nodded his head a little and pulled his hat lower over his eyes. He had been carefully scrutinizing a rifle that stood behind Acklin's desk. He reached over and picked it up and broke it open. It was an almost new automatic. He threw a shell out of the chamber.

"I reckon I'd better take this," he murmured offhandedly. "The old iron you gave me when I came bucks about every second shot. This is a real rifle; brand new, too."

"No, don't take any gun," Cash drawled. "Ain't you still got that hat trick if anybody jumps you?"

"That's right, Kildare," Acklin went on. "I'm sending you because I particularly don't want a fight. You had better get started."

Blaze had palmed one of the shells from Acklin's gun; and he compared it, as soon as he got away, with the one he had found on the rocks. There was no question of their likeness.

The Basques, bareheaded under the blazing sun, murmured age-old Latin prayers for the repose of their leader, as the body was lowered to its last resting-place. Kildare took off his hat and whispered "Amen" in unison with the mourners. It was an unconscious, reverential touch; a response to a tug at his emotions that surprised him.

He saw Mercedes, with Basilio's hand in hers, kneeling beside the grave as the earth was shoveled on the coffin. As if in response to his penetrating gaze, she turned and saw him.

Their eyes conveyed to each other an unspoken message. Mercedes seemed to appeal dumbly to him in her misery. Kildare stepped forward, but he stopped almost immediately as he saw an expression of intense fear creep over the girl's face.

Romero and Salvador had recognized the Double A man. They drew near, and still Blaze made no move. Kent wondered why he did not draw. Romero had his six-gun ready for action.

"Drop that shootin'-iron quick!" Kent commanded.

Blaze said so quietly that not a whisper reached those beside the grave. But Romero heard and obeyed. Tuscarora was not fooling! Save for Mercedes, no one in the crowd had been conscious of their movements.

"Why does he come here?" Romero questioned savagely. "He's a sneak for the Double A. Kildare's blood leaped.

"I'll take that from no bosco!" he cried. He used the cow-man's term of contempt for the Basque, with a shade of emphasis that meant deadly insult.

"Kildare was tending to his own business," Tuscarora stated loud enough for all to hear. "These boys, butted in on him—tried to jump him. We won't have any rummups."

CHAPTER XVII. Friends to the Rescue. LONG after the mourners had dispersed, Kildare and Tuscarora sat in their saddles at the gate of the cemetery.

Tuscarora had swung his horse around, and was staring intently at the rise back of the cemetery down which Blaze had come. Kildare saw immediately the cause of the little man's interest. Silhouetted against the sky were six horsemen. As the two of them watched, the riders separated. One went north, and the others dashed away to the east.

Kent whirled on Blaze. "Is that your bunch?" he demanded. "I came alone," the Double A man shot back, quick to realize the insinuation. "I think I recognize the big fellow ahead!"

"Bodine! Let's find out what they've got on their mind!" "You said it, son. I don't fancy this Mr. Bodine even a little bit."

To avoid seeming to trail the mysterious riders, Blaze and Kent crossed rather to intercept them by following the road Mercedes had taken. Jose and Basilio had left with Peter, and the rest of the Basque clan. The Kings River. The gray-haired Basque was an uncle to them by marriage.

EVENING SALUTATION

The ill-usage of every minute is a new record against us in heaven.
—Zimmerman.

THE CALL OF THE CANYONS

The call of the open road is an all-year call in California. There are times of the year, to be sure, when the call is more insistent than it is at others, but there isn't a month in the year or a week in the year when motoring in the Golden State hasn't more destinations to offer than the most ardent motorist can reach.

The call to residents of Orange county just now is strongly toward the hills, into the canyons between green slopes and rugged walls.

It was not by vote or by the proclamation of some organized society that the pioneers in early days of this county rode in wagon and buggies to the Orange county park, then known as "the picnic grounds". It was the call of the beautiful hills, the allurements of the oaks and sycamores and the green slopes that took them each year to the May Day picnic.

While the May Day picnic as a great gathering of the residents of the Santa Ana valley has passed, the call of the hills is just as commanding as ever. Its call, perhaps, is heard no oftener, but the response is almost immediate. It takes no slow journey behind horses to reach the scenes of one's longings. Our automobiles take us over smooth boulevards to tree-dotted bottoms and winding roads.

DOLEFUL PROPHECIES

Anton Johnson, a Finnish peasant who claims to have foretold the World War, is out with a new batch of prophecies. Here are the high spots:

He predicts a war between England and India, about 1925, in which India will win freedom, at a cost of millions of lives, and the English will be driven into the sea.

America is to have five big wars in succession, one of them with Canada.

France will fight with Spain in 1930, and about 20 years later will invade Norway, Sweden and Russia with imperialistic designs, winning a victory by means of three-decker gas balloons.

Hunger and plague are to play their part. First is the "Spanish malady", which will be overcome. Then will begin, along with the Anglo-Indian war, a hitherto unknown disease for which there is no cure, making its victims first blind and then crazy. Out of the Franco-Spanish war will come a new lung disease destroying one-fourth of the world's population.

Dreadful stuff—if you believe it. The average citizen, reading it, will go about his work as usual and wisely proceed to forget all about it. Predictions from Washington about the weather—which are based on scientific observation—are vastly more important than crack-brained war predictions from any source whatever. For every prediction that happens to hit, and therefore remembered, there are hundreds miss, and are therefore promptly forgotten.

KAMCHATKA AND ASIA MINOR

Those contracts for the development of mineral properties in Asia Minor, obtained from the Turkish government by Rear Admiral Chester, appear to be the real thing. There must be oil and other valuable resources in Anatolia, or so clever a man would never have spent years in seeking them, and France would not be inaking such a fuss about them. Yet somehow the incident reminds one of Kamchatka.

A couple of years ago there was just such an ado over concessions obtained from the Russian government by a California promoter for the exploitation of the natural resources of Kamchatka, which might be called Asia's most eastern peninsula, as Asia Minor is its most western. Those concessions were estimated to be worth a billion dollars. And for all anybody knows, they may be. But the public has heard nothing about the matter since, and there is a general impression that the enterprise has gone dead, for lack of capital willing to take the risk or from political difficulties, or both.

The same sort of disappointment has been experienced dozens of times with regard to ambitious ventures in Central and South America.

All this may have no application to the Turkish enterprise. It may be, as the men interested say, that there is $500,000,000 to be made out of it. But surely neither American promoters nor American investors need to be reminded that there's a many a slip between a concession in a foreign land and its conversion into cash profits. This is particularly true in a land so cursed by bad government and vexed by all the cross-currents of international hatred and business rivalry as Turkey.

GREAT AIR RECORDS

While a lot of dancers were circling wearily around ballroom floors, in various cities, the other day, to see who could hold out longest, two aviators were circling similarly around the sky in an airplane, at Dayton, Ohio. The latter performance was as useful as the former was silly.

Lieutenants MacReady and Kelley flew continuously for over 36 hours around a triangular course. That is a fine feat of endurance, for men and machine. They covered a distance of 2,541 miles, thus establishing a distance as well as a time record for continuous flight. That distance, in a straight line, would have taken them across the continent, or across the Atlantic. They broke speed records, too. And both speed and distance would have been greater, for the time elapsed, if they had gone straight ahead instead of making so many turns.

The "world's records" made at Dayton on April 17 mean something in scientific knowledge and practical service to mankind. The dancing records are meaningless, except as they illustrate human folly.

THE ILLITERACY CONFERENCE

One of the most interesting conferences of the year was the illiteracy conference of the southern states which was held recently at Little Rock, Ark. Three hundred delegates from fourteen states attended. All phases of illiteracy with which the various sections of the South have to deal came up for discussion.

Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, chairman of the conference and of the illiteracy commission of the National Education Association, summed up the situation in four points—the number of illiterates or partial illiterates to be found, the fact that it has been demonstrated that they can be taught to read and write, their great eagerness to learn and the obligation which rests on the South to give them educational opportunities. A resolution was unanimously adopted declaring that illiteracy must be wiped out of the South before the census of 1930.

It is no light burden which the South assumes in making this effort, but it is right in line with the enthusiasm with which the southern states are tackling all the problems which have to do with their own progress. In removing the stigma and the menace of illiteracy, they take their longest step forward.

A Utica jury has been called upon to decide the line of demarcation between good and bad Italian cheese. There ought to be strong arguments for both sides.

Transcontinental Freight Rates

San Francisco Chronicle.
Intercoastal traffic via the Panama canal seems to be profitable, if one may judge by the number of ships in the trade or proposing to enter it, and a strong effort is being made to wrest from the rail carriers the traffic eastward of perishable foodstuffs and the movement west of certain classes of package freight. The vessels are being equipped with refrigeration plants as the result of experimental shipments for the two years past and especially during the shippers' strikes of last summer. As the result of this new competition the transcontinental roads are making sweeping reductions in rates on the traffic affected.

While the transcontinental roads are far more important to us than any possible steamship intercoastal service freight will move by the cheapest or otherwise most desirable route and the more competition we get the better. And so far as sentiment cuts any figure, while we know of no ground of complaint in respect of the present management of the transcontinental roads the memories of the brutal tyranny of years ago have not yet entirely faded. The evil that men do lives after them.

But really competition should be fair so far as it is affected by public policy. And it is not. The water carriers may conspire to fix through rates by "conferences," while the rail carriers are not allowed, except by special permission, to reduce through rates at all without proportionate reduction of local rates, which sea competition will not affect. Nor are the transcontinental roads allowed to operate ships of their own through the canal.

We shall always route our traffic by the route that pays us best. But we have enough of the sporting spirit to feel that competition should be fair. Besides, fairness pays best.

Time for Mediation

Stockton Independent.
France so far, instead of profiting by her collecting expedition in the Ruhr, has paid dearly. That adventure is credited with having raised the French cost of living about 20 per cent, out of the total 30 per cent increase in the last twelve months.

The cost of maintaining the army now occupying the Ruhr, though large, is the smallest factor of the real expense. Failure to obtain the former supplies of coal from Germany has resulted in the closing of scores of French factories and the crippling of thousands out of work. It is the dulltest business period France has had for years.

France still hopes to break German resistance, and it is possible that a break will come at any time. The Germans are so hampered by the enemy on their back that they would give much to be free. Their industry is hampered worse than that of France. But there is no telling how far hatred and stubbornness will carry them in this career of ruinous resistance.

As for France, her biggest problem now is to get out of the enterprise to which she has committed herself, and against which she was warned by the whole world. It looks as if both nations would welcome friendly mediation. Both seem to have lost hope of profit from their present policies, but pride keeps each from taking the first step toward compromise.

Leads In Auto Sales

Pasadena Star-News.
That California, during March, bought more automobiles and motor trucks than any other state in the Union, is the belief of experts. All records in the state were shattered for that month, when 28,398 machines were sold. The number went beyond the most sanguine expectations of those who keep their fingers on the pulse of the automotive trade.

This denotes prosperity in California—widespread prosperity. The people would not be buying cars in such great numbers if they were not able, financially, to do so. The extraordinarily large number of sales this spring indicates the best of economic conditions throughout California.

That California is well adapted to autoing also is a factor in the big demand for cars here. Here in Southern California, in particular, conditions are ideal for motoring. Sales of motor vehicles here in the Southland for March increased 89 per cent as compared with March, 1922. This section surely has the automobile enthusiasm. Its automobile trade is matched by but few portions of the United States.

Beautifying the City

San Bernardino Sun.
The most attractive place in the city, the residence which draws attention from the passerby, is not always the house which is constructed of the finest material, but the house where the lawn is made beautiful with flowers and shrubbery. The finest mansion in the country unadorned is but a mass of bricks, lumber and mortar.

Flowers which are so easily cultivated and produce so luxuriously are needed to add the touch of beauty. Walk past the homes where there are flowers on the lawns and you will involuntarily hesitate as you pass to admire them.

Beautification of lawns is strictly individual work and reflects the culture, refinement and love for the beautiful of those who do it. As compensation they have the consciousness of doing something which adds to the pleasure of others, as well as the genuine enjoyment which they themselves receive.

Young Home Builders

One of the most encouraging evidences of returning prosperity is the demand among young married people for homes of their own. Building authorities report that not only are the immediate newlyweds making plans to live by themselves, but there is also a marked tendency among couples who have been living with the "old folks" for some time to get into their own homes.

Nothing could be better. Family combinations are often necessary, or seem so, but they are seldom as satisfactory as individual establishments. Often they are the source of actual misery for all concerned. Aside from the inevitable complications, it is difficult for the young people to develop the habits of independence and personal responsibility which they acquire speedily in living by themselves.

Forest Protection a State Problem

By M. B. Pratt, State Forester

President Harding, in proclaiming Forest Protection Week, April 22-28, states that forest fires are largely the result of carelessness or thoughtlessness. The truth of this statement was borne out in California last summer when over 85 per cent of the forest, brush and grass fires which burned over more than 650,000 acres of land, were man caused.

Brother Californian, isn't it true that the call of the Outdoors is the call of the Trees? Horses couldn't drag you to a hunting trip in a treeless wilderness; a fishing trip by a treeless lake; or a camping trip in a treeless valley.

Last summer hundreds of campers in the forests of California struck an unfair blow at the rights and privileges of fellow campers and fellow sportsmen by starting disastrous forest fires through carelessness or thoughtlessness.

Hundreds of campers failed to extinguish their camp fires and cigarettes, and by their careless personal acts killed the pleasure of camping, fishing and hunting over many square miles for years to come.

Don't be a kill-joy. The fellow who follows after you will enjoy your precautions or suffer because of your carelessness.

Today's camp fires may cover a township of timber by tomorrow. Take a few decent precautions.

Enjoy the woods. There is nothing in them to fear except fire, and fires seldom occur unless you start them. All big fires start as little ones. A minute's care may save a century of waiting for the forest to come back.

Brother Californian, be a good citizen and put out your camp fire, cigarettes and matches when in the woods.

Worth While Verse

SAFE HARBOR

We stood on the headland high and bold
And gazed far into the West.
The sea and sky were ruddied to gold,
Where the sun tipped ocean's crest.
And a full rigged ship marked a whitened way
As she sailed through that golden sea;
Straight to the heart of the dying day,
To the wind's sad liturgy.

She mazed her way through molten waves,
Where the pulsing swell swings past,
Her forefoot gleams where the bright flood laves,
Bright shines her rigging and mast.
But straight she holds to the sinking sun,
In a fading arc of light;
Whose gold is blent to purpling dun,
Till lost in the murk of night.

Adown the path is a light aglow
With cheer for my love and me.
And we turn from murmurous waves below,
That beat 'gainst that pentland free.
Our beacon guides us to cottage door
And as ship to her charted flight,
Finds harbor safe and the voyage o'er—
So we leave the world in its night.

—Frank Markward in Kansas City Star.

WHERE ENJOYMENT ENDED.

The town lyceum audience had a good sociable time visiting among themselves from the time when the doors opened until the hour for the lecture to begin.

Finally there was a little stir in the aisle, the Methodist parson went to the stage entrance, accompanied by a dress-suited figure. Then the minister appeared behind the footlights and announced: "Ladies and gentlemen, you have enjoyed yourselves long enough. The lecturer is here and will deliver his address."

Making It "Too Soft"
For Boys and Girls

By the Staff

O. M. Robbins, not familiarly, but lovingly, called "Dad" by hundreds of the younger men about town, is, by vocation, the secretary of the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association, and by avocation he is a student of human nature and social economics. In fact Mr. Robbins is somewhat noted for his sound philosophy of life and his keen analysis of many phases of human nature.

He was talking the other day about the boys—that is, the little fellows of twelve, is eighteen, first, and merging naturally into a consideration of grown-up young men.

"I sometimes wonder," he said, "if we aren't making things too soft for our young people. In our very natural and proper desire to give them every possible protection, help and opportunity, aren't we, perhaps, unconsciously, robbing them of what they need most—self-reliance, resourcefulness, responsibility."

"I believe our young people have too much money to spend—or too much spent upon them—and too little work to do.

"Any achievement or acquisition, either material or moral, that comes as a gift or without work, striving and sacrifice, is always undervalued, and does not carry with it to the recipient the best of all achievements or acquisitions—self-reliance and self-respect."

The fact that Mr. Robbins practices what he preaches was brought out in what he said about the policy of the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association.

"We have entirely too many applicants for loans," said Mr. Robbins in this connection, "who want

"all we can get," and usually it but lovingly, called "Dad" by hundreds of the younger men about town, is, by vocation, the secretary of the Home Mutual Building and Loan Association, and by avocation he is a student of human nature and social economics. In fact Mr. Robbins is somewhat noted for his sound philosophy of life and his keen analysis of many phases of human nature.

"Further questioning, in some instances, brings out the fact that they have a lot that 'Dad' has given them, and that they have saved nothing themselves. Usually all that that kind of application gets from us is just nothing at all.

"Once in a while we have the other extreme. I call to mind one young couple for whom the wife transpires that what little they have was given to them.

"A young couple comes in and makes application for a loan.

"How much do you need?" we ask.

"All we can get," is the reply.

"Without hesitation I told that young woman that she could have all she wanted."

"Of course," concluded Mr. Robbins, "I want every married couple to have a home and will go as far as possible to help to that end. The home is the main factor in stable government. Many think of it as the proper place to bring up children. It is often far more necessary to 'bring up' the father and mother.

"Earning and saving to acquire a home is a business transaction, and I want to do my part to help pave the road and to make walking easy; but the home-owner should fully realize that walking is a healthful pastime. The millennium will be here when every person owns his 'home.'"

Mutuality

By Berton Braley

"The world is a small place after all."

A trite remark as you may recall, But nevertheless that threadbare phrase is so.

And it's certainly great, beyond a doubt,

As hither and thither you roam about,

To meet somebody who knows somebody you know!

"What! You know Jones? Bill Jones, my friend?"

Well say, will miracles never end? Why, gosh, I've known him since ever so long ago!

Then you and the stranger feel like chums,

For a sense of intimate friendship comes,

When you meet somebody who knows somebody you know!

The ice is melted and stiff restraint

Is one of the things that was, but ain't,

And your heart is glowing a constantly warmer glow;

For next to meeting a friend from home

There's nothing more cheerfuller as you roam,

Than meeting somebody who knows somebody you know!

Health Notes

NATIONAL FOOD AND DRUGS ACT

The National Food and Drugs act was designed to protect the public from adulterations and fraudulent statements concerning the contents of these vital necessities.

In the second article on "patent medicines" by Dr. Arthur J. Cramp in the May issue of Hygeia the achievements and failures of this act are lucidly set forth and the successive changes that have been forced in the matter of labels are illustrated.

The act gives some protection against the exploiter—who does an interstate business in "patent medicines." It requires a statement of the presence and amount of eleven drugs and their derivatives. It has penalized falsifying on or in the trade package.

But the law does not give any protection against the fraudulent "patent medicine" that is made and sold within the confines of any one state. It does not require the declaration of the presence and amount of scores of dangerous drugs that can be put into such remedies. It offers no protection against the fraud and misrepresentation in the common avenues of publicity, such as newspaper advertisements, billboards and circulars.

When one realizes that the claims in or on the package often differ materially from those that appear elsewhere, one cannot avoid the conclusion that parts omitted are left out with a reason—they cannot be substantiated.

Paisley Shawls

The present popularity of Paisley shawls and designs is merely the repetition of a fad which was started in Europe over a hundred years ago by Empress Josephine. However, the vogue of the Paisley shawl extends still further back in history, says Gertrude Linnell in an article on Kashmir shawls in The Mentor for May.

The Paisley is merely a machine-made European imitation of the shawls woven by hand in the vale of Kashmir for over two thousand years. In fact, in the days of the Caesars, Kashmir shawls were seen on the streets of the Roman empire.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 14—THE TANK

"We must build a fort," said General Gold Braid to his wooden soldiers.

"What kind of a fort, sir?" asked Major Starch Front.

"A wooden one, as we are wooden ourselves," answered the general stiffly. "Prattie Ram Rod, take the motor truck and go and take us some blocks at the supply house. Get ones that haven't got A B C on them—and hurry."

The soldier hopped into the motor truck and honk-honked away. Soon he returned with the blocks. Everybody pitched in and helped to build the new fort, and Nancy and Nick worked as hard as anybody.

Soon it was finished and a splendid fort it was. A wooden cannon was sticking out of every window and a flag floated bravely from a tall flag pole on top.

Suddenly Nick cried out, "Oh, look, quickly, everybody! Here comes a tank!"

The whole army turned and looked with amazement at the queer object that came lumbering
